U.S. Slates Space Hop For April

Cooper Chosen To Make All-Day, 18-Orbit Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., a dedicated flier who handled the controls of a plane at the age of 6, will be the pilot for the next U.S. manned space flight—a 24-hour orbital mission scheduled for next April.

The 35-year-old Air Force major was named Tuesday to carry the banner on America's next big step toward its target of landing men on the moon in this decade. The full day flight will swing him 13 times around the globe, triple the six-orbit ride made last month by astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Informed of his selection while working at Cape Canaveral, Cooper said he was "very delighted that I have been chosen. I've been working toward this goal for a long time."

At their Houston, Tex., home, Cooper's wife, Trudy — whom he taught to fly soon after they were married—said she was happy and pleased with the choice.

She said Cooper called her from the Cape and broke the news shortly after their two daughters, Camala, 13, and Janita, 12, returned from school.

The astronaut's mother, Mrs. Leroy G. Cooper Sr., who lives near the tiny mountain town of Carbondale, Colo., reported she was very happy with the selection. Her husband, the spark behind Gordon's early flying interest, died two years ago.

Cooper, a native of Shawnee, Okla., is the only eligible member of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team who has not rocketed into space. He was backup pilot for Schirra's flight.

Alan B. Shepard Jr. — named Cooper's backup—blazed the trail with a 15-minute suborbital space journey in May 1961. Virgil I. Grissom followed the same course. John H. Glenn Jr., and Malcolm Scott Carpenter made three-orbit flights earlier this year before Schirra went aloft.

ASTRONAUT LEROY GORDON COOPER

The seventh Mercury pilot, Donald K. Slayton, has been grounded because of a heart flutter.

Cooper's flight will provide further data on how man is affected by prolonged weightlessness and other space phenomena.

Was Amazed; Haggerty Backs Assertion

Ike Says He Didn't Ask Hiss Be Cut Off Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he was amazed when he learned that Alger Hiss was to be on an American Broadcasting Co. television program about Richard M. Nixon. But he says he did not ask that Hiss be cut off.

ABC executive James C. Hagerty backed up Eisenhower's assertion that he made no effort to obtain deletion of the Hiss portion of the program, which dealt with Nixon's political career.

Eisenhower said Tuesday in answer to questions that he telephoned Hagerty, White House press secretary under Eisenhower and now an American Broadcasting Co. vice president in charge of news, before the ABC program was aired last Sunday.

He said he wanted "to find out what it was all about," but did not ask Hagerty to eliminate Hiss from the taped program.

Eisenhower said he "expressed amazement" upon learning that Hiss — a convicted perjurer first exposed by Nixon — was among those interviewed on the program.

"But never in my life have I asked anybody not to report a story after they got it fully," Eisenhower said.

Hagerty had the ultimate responsibility for televising the controversial program.

Eisenhower's name got into the controversy after a Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News account of remarks by Republican National Chairman William E. Miller who told of Eisenhower's contacting Hagerty.

Nixon, vice president under Eisenhower, was a congressman from California in 1948 when he first acted against Hiss.

Hiss, then a high-ranking State Department official, appeared before Nixon's House Committee on Un-American Activities and denied that he was a member of a Communist espionage ring. A later denial by Hiss before a federal grand jury that he passed information to the Russians sent him to prison for perjury, and he served 3½ years.

Hiss, 58 and now a stationary salesman here, has repeatedly protested his innocence.

Hiss' appearance on the television program with three other persons has led to numerous protests across the country.

The Buffalo Evening News quoted Miller, a New York congressman, as saying an unidentified Eisenhower aide told him the former president "tried to intervene through Jim Hagerty and Hagerty wouldn't do anything about it."

After Eisenhower made his explanation, Miller denied he said that.

The Buffalo paper's reporter, Jerry Allan, said he had correctly quoted Miller about Eisenhower's alleged intervention.

State Finishes Work

Freeway Will Be Opened To Travel This Afternoon

East Liverpool's $6 million freeway will be opened to traffic late this afternoon.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen announced plans this morning for official opening of the California Hollow-West End link, explaining a specific time cannot be set because it depends upon completion of last-minute details by city street department crews.

The city must complete work on signs and other traffic controls, particularly along W. 3rd St. between Market St. and Monroe St., which serves as a link with the city end of the four-lane highway.

The Ohio Power Co. was notified this morning to turn on the street lights along the freeway and the interchange over W. 8th St.

Although the highway was dedicated Oct. 17, the opening was delayed until contractors finished some last-minute work.

State Highway Department crews completed work late Tuesday on erecting virtually all the signs along the freeway. As soon as the city takes care of placing the traffic controls that are its responsibility, the freeway will be opened, Owen said.

When traffic begins to flow over the highway, it will mark culmination of a project dating back almost two years. The overall cost of the 1.4-mile improvement is $5,819,880, including engineering and right-of-way. The contract cost for construction was $3,505,779.

Work started on the project Jan. 18, 1961.

Owen said the city crews will install signs along the route today, then cover them temporarily. The covers will be removed when the road is opened.

A four-way stop will be established at the point where a temporary connection links the freeway with present Route 30 near the city limits. When the freeway opens, it will be the new link through the city for Routes 7 and 30.

India Seeks More Money To Fight War

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government asked Parliament for more money today to fight the border war against Red China.

Finance Minister Morarji Desai submitted a request for an additional $199.5 million to meet increased defense costs caused by the Chinese invasion.

He put in the request as Prime Minister Nehru, 73 today, prepared to close a six-day debate in the lower house on a resolution dedicating the Indian people "to drive out the aggressor from the sacred soil of India, however long and hard the struggle may be."

The upper house gave overwhelming approval Tuesday to both the resolution and an accompanying authorization of a state of emergency.

Closing the debate in the upper house, Home Minister Lal Bhadur Shastri said Red China had "flooded the entire border of India with soldiers."

He announced plans for expansion of the armed forces, with military training to be given every able-bodied man. Home guard units will be set up and villagers armed in border districts.

Deep Split Develops In Catholic Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A deep split developed in the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council today over divine revelation — the first major theological subject put before the worldwide gathering.

The divine revelation project deals with scriptures and tradition which the Roman Catholic Church holds are the twin sources of the revealed word of God. It teaches that tradition includes writings not found in the Gospels. Protestants do not accept that the tradition contains the revealed word of God.

What the project proposes to do was not announced.

New Soviet-Cuban Bid Seen Bargaining Move

President, Bonn Chief Open Talks

To Weigh Impact Of Cuban Crisis On Berlin Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer meet today to weigh the impact of the Cuban crisis on the East-West dispute over Berlin.

The problem before the President and the chancellor is tangled by the fact that the outcome of the Cuban crisis is not yet clear and the real effect of the Soviet withdrawal of missiles from Cuba on Premier Khrushchev's Berlin policies is not yet known.

When the present date for the Kennedy and Adenauer conference was set officials had hoped that the Cuban situation would be substantially cleared up. They conceded today that with Soviet jet bombers still in Cuba the final results of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation are uncertain.

Adenauer arrived Tuesday night by plane from Bonn.

U.S. and German diplomats said Kennedy and Adenauer would cover a wide range of issues of which continuing coordination of policy on Berlin is the most important.

Development of French-German relations, British membership in the European Common Market, the promotion of European political integration and the buildup of German armed forces within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are the chief topics — apart from Berlin — listed on the agenda worked out in advance of Adenauer's arrival.

Prior to leaving Bonn, Adenauer told newsmen that he was not opposed to "negotiations in principle" with the Soviet Union Berlin provided that the Russians give some evidence of good faith in their dealings with the West.

Kennedy administration leaders have been studying the possibility that the Soviet withdrawal of nuclear weapons from Cuba opened the way for new Western initiatives on Berlin.

Their study, however, was started on the belief that Khrushchev would remove more than two dozen jet bombers known to be in Cuba as well as the 42 missiles which the U.S. Navy checked out aboard Soviet ships last week.

The Russians have stalled on withdrawal of the bombers and the activities of First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in discussions with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana remain a mystery here. U.S. officials had assumed that he would see that Castro lives up to Khrushchev's commitment to Kennedy to remove all offensive weapons from the island.

$7.8 Billion Deficit Seen For This Year

Could Imperil Tax Cut Plans For '63, Officials Believe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials are forecasting a federal budget deficit this year of $7.8 billion. This could be big enough, perhaps, to imperil President Kennedy's plans for a 1963 tax cut.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., was one of the first Congress members to comment today on the official deficit estimate announced Tuesday by the Budget Bureau.

"Under the circumstances," he said, "it would be a serious mistake to give the President the tax cut which he indicated last summer he will ask when Congress resumes."

It may have been no accident that, just prior to the deficit announcement, it was reported that the administration was giving thought to a gradual tax reduction that would take effect in several steps over a period of one to two years. Such a plan would soften the immediate impact of lower taxes.

The Budget Bureau said several factors were responsible for dashing its dream of keeping out of the red in the current fiscal year that began July 1. It said:

The economy, by falling far short of earlier expectations, is cutting deeply into forecast revenues. Federal income now is expected to total $85.9 billion—down $7.1 billion from the estimate Kennedy provided when he sent the budget to Congress last January and predicted a $500 million surplus.

The administration's 1962 tax bill and the Treasury's July liberalization of tax depreciation, both aimed at spurring business modernization, will account for $2 billion of the revenue loss.

The red ink total in the last fiscal year was $6.3 billion. A deficit of $7.8 billion would be the second highest in peacetime, topped only by the $12.4 billion chalked up in 1959.

2 Appointed As Policemen In Vacancies

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen today announced appointment of two young men to patrolmen's vacancies in the police department and said they will report for duty Friday.

Naming the top two on a four-man list certified to him Friday by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, Owen appointed:

David Keith Mumaw, 24, of Iris Ave. and Karl William Samples, 1827 Allison St.

They will fill the posts left vacant several months ago by the resignations of Patrolmen Floyd K. Heddleston and E. R. Furgason.

Owen said he expects to fill at least one more patrolman's vacancy shortly. Another patrolman's job will be open when an officer is promoted to lieutenant to take the vacancy created by the resignation of Thomas A. Walker, the director pointed out.

Mumaw, now an employe of the

Recovery Teams Sift Guam Rubble; 6 Reported Dead

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Recovery teams began sifting through what appeared to be a massive junkyard on Guam today and said they expect to find more victims in the rubble left by Typhoon Karen.

Karen, officially described as the worst disaster in the history of this strategic American outpost in the western Pacific, damaged or destroyed nearly every civilian building on the island. Winds up to 174 miles an hour blasted the island for four hours Sunday night.

So far, six Guamanians have been reported dead, at least 100 other natives and military men or dependents injured and damages estimated at more than $100 million.

50 Attend Mass Meeting On Railroad Merger Plan

About 50 attended a mass meeting in Wellsville Tuesday night to discuss the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central and the remarks ranged from the retirement salary of Pennsy's president to the number of jobs that may be lost in Wellsville.

The three hour session was held in the visual education room of Daw Junior High School. Wellsville City Council sat in special session but took no action other than to hear both company officials and representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and monitor questions directed from the audience.

Spokesmen for the company were W. E. Baird, manager of public relations for the Pittsburgh Region; S. C. Gibson of Wheeling, district sales manager, and W. K. McCann, supervisor of transportation engineering.

Principal spokesmen for the brotherhood were D. E. Patmore, national assistant co-ordinator of the union's committee opposing the merger, and Mac E. Rogers, assistant co-ordinator for the Brotherhood Trainmen's Committee to Preserve Railroad Service. Rogers also is the international co-ordinator for education for the Brotherhood.

Councilmen present were Mrs. Mary E. Rahter, president, William Stroble, Allen Baldwin, Donald Miller, Dwight MacLean, Frank DeLonzo, and Robert Taggart. Mrs. Kay Drago was absent.

Also introduced were Floyd Murray, East Liverpool councilman; Mayor William Daugherty,

Rejection By U.S. Held As Certain

Package Presented U Thant By Soviet, Cuban Aides At UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Some U.N. delegates assessed today new Soviet-Cuban demands, reported to include U.S. withdrawal from the base at Guantanamo, as a bargaining maneuver in negotiations to end the Cuban crisis.

"It is just another move in the chess game," said one diplomat. "Now the Russians will wait for the United States to make a move."

The United States was certain to reject the package presented to U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant Tuesday by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson met for 3½ hours Tuesday night with Kuznetsov and said the talk was "constructive." He said it "served to identify and clarify the positions of both countries on the unresolved issues."

Kuznetsov presumably presented the new Soviet-Cuban proposal to Stevenson. The American delegate was believed to have countered with the main U.S. demands —that the Soviet Union withdraw its IL28 jet bombers from Cuba and permit adequate verification that Soviet missile sites have been dismantled and all rockets and other offensive weapons sent back to the Soviet Union.

The new Soviet-Cuban proposal was reported based on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's five-point demand made on Oct. 28 for an end to all U.S. activities against his regime and U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo. The five points apparently were worked over by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who has been in Havana since Nov. 2.

Informants said the Soviet-Cuban proposal dealt mainly with U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo and included an end to the U.S. naval blockade of arms shipments and measures by the United States to prevent hostile activity against Cuba by exiles.

It also was said to call for firmer guarantees that the United States will not invade Cuba.

President Kennedy made a no-invasion pledge contingent on the Soviet Union living up to Premier Khrushchev's promise to pull out all missiles and other offensive weapons under adequate verification.

The President has stressed that he considers the jet bombers offensive weapons.

The Soviet Union has balked at removing the jets, contending that they were turned over to Castro and are under his control.

Chances of lifting the blockade were remote following word from Geneva that the International Red Cross Committee had decided not to take part in inspection of Cuba-bound ships under present conditions.

Damages In Mill Fire Estimated At $20,000

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. estimated $20,000 damages from a fire Tuesday night in the electrical construction department storage area.

Eighteen Midland volunteer firemen assisted the plant's fire brigade in fighting the fire for two and a half hours. The fire started about 9.

The company said it believes that the fire started when an electrical line burned due to a short and fell into stored material.

Cable splicing equipment and an electric controller were damaged.

No one was injured. Midland volunteer firemen responded with two fire trucks and emergency truck. They returned to the station at 11:45.

Foolproof Rule Of Thumb

During World War II we used to say we wouldn't trust certain people as far as we could throw Hermann Goering, the bloated chief of Hitler's air arm.

Americans felt that way about the Japanese. They felt that way about the Italians. It was how they felt about the Soviet Union, after Stalin signed a no-aggression treaty with Hitler in 1939.

Thinking back over it now, that treaty was the most important tipoff ever given to the political nature of the Soviet Union under its Communist party leaders. Even Hitler was fooled until he turned the tables and fooled the Communists.

These men will do anything to advance their cause, even to making agreements they do not intend to honor.

THE AMERICAN people always have sensed this by instinct.

They never have believed in the good faith of the Kremlin, not even when it was nominally an ally.

They always have mistrusted government spokesmen and fellow citizens who have claimed to have reached understanding with Russian officials.

They knew by instinct long before their own government knew by photographic evidence that Russian technicians had come to Cuba to set up military bases. Not having the benefit of the tortured arguments that diplomats use against each other, the American people neither can be outwitted nor can they outwit themselves in encounters with experts in Communist dialectics.

THEIR INSTINCT now is warning them again about the Russians in Cuba—and the Czechs, the Chinese and whatever other varieties of Communists may be there.

There has been no withdrawal of military potential from Cuba.

The Soviet Union has taken some of its missiles away but has left something more important than missiles. It has left planes. It has left technicians. It may have left submarines capable of firing nuclear missiles.

Hermann Goering is long dead. Nikita Khrushchev is very much alive. Nothing escapes his sharp eyes.

As a fool-proof rule of thumb, we suggest that no one trust him or his government as far as they could throw him.

We propose this as a foreign policy pending the decision whether to wait for Castro to seek refuge from the Communists in Miami, Fla., or whether to go after him.

Never The Twain Can Meet

Interesting at this point of speculation about politics in 1964 is the way speculators are overlooking moderation as the best of all political positions in the United States.

The bulk of voters are moderates.

The principal figures in both major parties are moderates.

Yet when political speculation is carried on for the benefit of those not aware of this key fact it is made to appear that reactionaries and radicals are locked in mortal embrace from which only one will emerge triumphant. Moderates are ignored.

The battle for party control is said to be between extremists. Among Democrats it is Sen. Eastland of Mississippi vs. Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota. Among Republicans it is Sen. Goldwater of Arizona vs. Sen. Javits of New York.

Yet moderates are always the numerical majority in a fight for party control.

THEY DO NOT have strong leadership. They usually have no leadership at all. They are consistently misrepresented, misled and misinformed by extremist leaders. But they are the backbone of the party—either party.

The extremists who flank them right and left never can meet. They are poles apart. In the Republican party, however, there is an "accommodation" that is impossible in the Democratic party.

The Democratic party is a political coalition of irreconcilable elements—AFL-CIO and the Citizens Council for White Supremacy, Americans for Democratic Action and states' rightists, Negroes in northern cities and Negroes in Mississippi. There is no common ground on which these elements can meet.

THE ELEMENTS of the Republican party, less powerful in numbers, can and have stood together. They were together in the Eisenhower administration. They would have stood together under a Nixon administration. They could stand together under any one of the several possible nominees for the presidency in 1964.

This does not carry assurance of success at the polls. But it carries assurance of moderation as the dominant force in national politics.

On all issues that make it possible for moderates of both parties to join forces against a common opponent—the "immoderates"—there can be no question of the outcome. Moderation always will carry the day when the moderates find a voice.

'Phasing Out' The Cadet Program

It is evident from the loopholes left by the State Board of Education in its decision to wind up Ohio's cadet teacher program that doubts existed.

They existed also in the minds of the teaching profession, school administrators, parents, all friends of education and taxpayers in general.

The cadet teacher program has earned widespread gratitude. It saved the day for degree teachers swamped with more pupils than they could handle. It helped to overcome the teacher shortage.

It opened the teaching profession to candidates who had completed two years of college work, not necessarily in teacher training. It was based on the sound proposition that people with a two-year college background could be taught on the job and checked out in teacher-training courses later.

It was on-the-job training for newcomers in a profession pinched for manpower. It was backed up enthusiastically by accredited teachers, who welcomed all the help they could get and gave all the help they could give.

It worked wonders. It turned up many "born" teachers who became a credit to the profession. It gave pupils a chance to rub minds and personalities with adults who never would have gone into teaching if they had been required to complete courses in "educationism" before starting to share their education.

In the long run, teacher standards can be maintained best by requiring uniform accreditation for starting teachers. In the short run, the cadet program in Ohio, now to be "phased out" by Oct. 1, 1968, worked well once and could work well again.

The State Board of Education has left enough loopholes in its decision and pushed the deadline for terminating the program so far into the future it has done nothing in effect but issue a declaration of long-range policy.

Though I am not astonished by the deep-seated ignorance of my fellow citizens about public affairs, I am astonished that it has been possible to do as well as we have in this country with a badly informed electorate.

I've always intended to take five minutes off someday to figure out why an imperfect postage stamp is worth hundreds of dollars. But first I may have to take three minutes to figure out how an imperfect postage stamp can get past the scrutinizing eyes of people paid for making sure that errors do not appear in postage stamps.

For owners of over-pampered dogs I point out this oddity about our "Rottwollie"—that she passes up her snuggery in the barn on many occasions, preferring to sleep outside, even when there's snow on the ground.

Chief Justice Earl Warren's proposal for a new profession — counselor in ethics—to advise clients on procedures not covered by the law strikes me as an idea worthy of the public official who ranks second only to the chief executive in official prestige.

I think Richard M. Nixon and Thomas E. Dewey were the best trained men who ever sought the presidency of the United States and I think most people who believed this to be true share a conviction both men bear the same handicap of personality. They seem to be trying too hard.

This is the season I remember with horror how football practice used to be when the weather turned bad and our knuckle-headed coach made us scrimmage in conditions so disagreeable even the campus dogs stayed under cover.

I do not intend to send food package to Billie Sol Estes even though he has filed a pauper's oath to show why he cannot be expected to meet his financial obligations. I think his fellow Texans should take care of Billie Sol and have the impression they will do just that.

There will be no funnier skit in show business for my money than the Danny Kaye-Lucille Ball routine about getting smashed in a French restaurant. It happened to me and the lady I get smashed with last summer in Paris, though not so uproariously as it happened to those two clowns.

This and That

The first jet-propelled airplane built in the United States was completed in Buffalo and flown for the first time on Oct. 1, 1942. Its speed was over 400 miles an hour at an altitude of 40,000 feet.

Postage stamps for the mailing of letters were used by three other nations before the citizens of the United States began licking them — by Great Britain, Brazil and Switzerland.

Small Nations Control U.N. Policies

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Just what is the United Nations today?

Most Americans have not yet become aware of the fact that the name itself is a missnomer An appropriate title would be the "Disunited Nations" for this organization of high purpose is badly split. Such members as the United States, Great Britain and France — who have done so much to advance economic and social progress in the world — are in the minority. They are outnumbered in votes, and subject to the whim of a galaxy of small nations. A group composed mostly of the uncivilized, backward and underdeveloped countries of the world now rules the United Nations.

David Lawrence

A vote just a week ago in the U.N. was an eye opener. By a big majority, the small nations voted for the expulsion of a member—the Republic of South Africa — whose internal problems are not being handled to the satisfaction of this new majority. To meddle in the internal affairs of a member state is a violation of the Charter of the U.N. but this didn't deter the new majority, which completely disregarded the specific wording of the charter.

There are 106 member nations in the organization. Russia has three votes, though the United States has only one. Representation has no relationship to population, nor is it on the basis of financial or economic equities.

IN FAVOR of the resolution to expel South Africa, there were 67 member nations, and 16 against. There were 23 member nations which "abstained." This means they felt they would be embarrassed if they voted either way. How many Americans know even where some of these countries are to be found on the world map? Here is the list of the 67 which rule the U.N. today:

Afghanistan	Nigeria
Algeria	Rwanda
Burma	Saudi Arabia
Burundi	Senegal
Cambodia	Sierra Leone
Cameroun	Somalia
Ceylon	Sudan
Chad	Syria
Congo, Brazzaville	Tanganyika
Congo, Leopoldville	Togo
Cyprus	Trinidad-Tobago
Dahomey	Tunisia
Ethiopia	Uganda
Ghana	United Arab Republic
Guinea	Upper Volta
Haiti	Yemen
India	China
Indonesia	Israel
Iran	Mexico
Iraq	Pakistan
Ivory Coast	Philippines
Jamaica	U.S.S.R.
Jordan	Byelorussia
Laos	Ukraine
Lebanon	Albania
Liberia	Bulgaria
Libya	Cuba
Madagascar	Czechoslovakia
Malaya	Hungary
Mali	Mongolia
Mauritania	Poland
Morocco	Romania
Nepal	Yugoslavia
Niger

The last 12 listed above comprise the Communist - bloc countries.

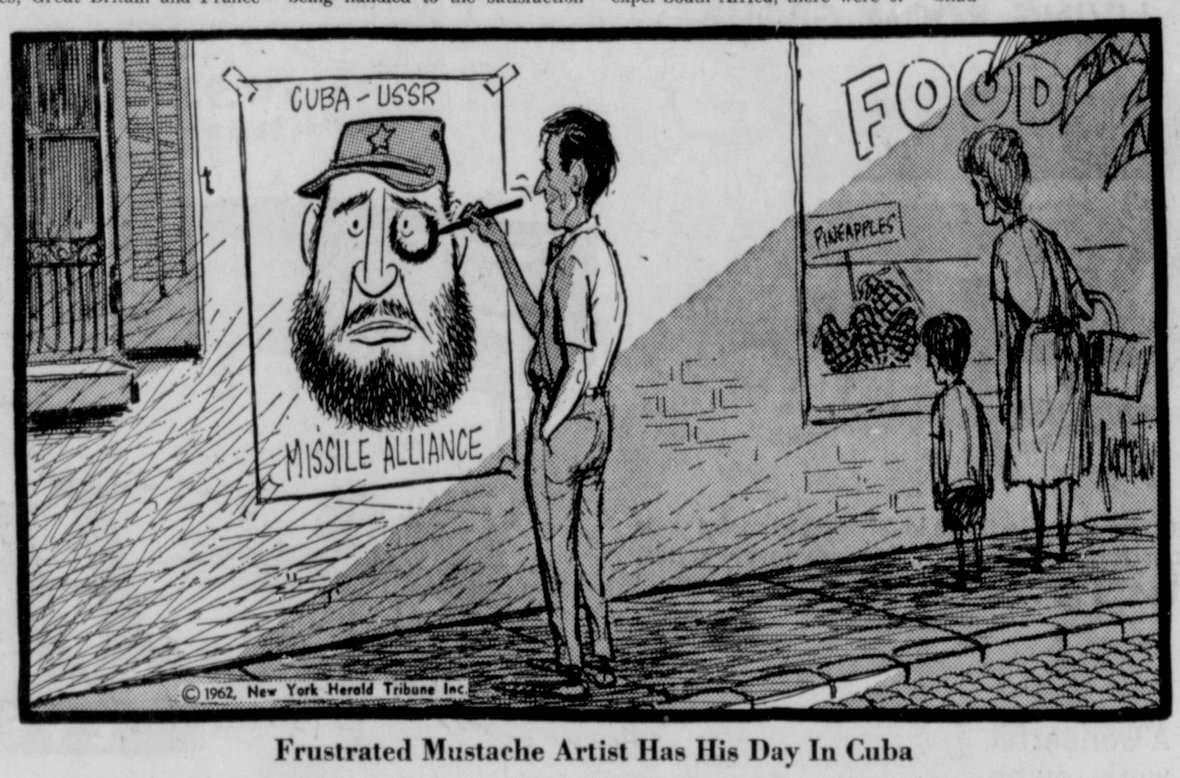
NATIONALIST CHINA voted with the majority for political reasons but it is hard to explain the vote by Mexico and by the Philippines or Pakistan and other nations which get substantial amounts of "foreign aid" from the United States. But, even omitting this latter group, it is important to note that still voting against the United States were more than 54 nations — a majority of the 106 members.

Here are the 16 countries which supported the U.N. Charter and hence cast their vote against the resolution to expel South Africa:

Australia	The Netherlands
Belgium	New Zealand
Canada	Portugal
France	South Africa
Greece	Spain
Ireland	Turkey
Japan	United Kingdom
Luxembourg	United States

The list of those 23 countries which abstained is also interesting. For among them are many friends of the United States in Latin America, Scandinavia and elsewhere. Unfortunately, even if they had voted with the 16 who opposed the resolution, the total vote would have been only 39. So it is the big group of small nations, numbering more than the 54 necessary for a majority, which makes the United Nations a helpless and perhaps useless body as an international force.

This new majority can play a decisive role in amending the Charter so as to be able to wield even more power in the U.N. as against the United States and its allies.



Frustrated Mustache Artist Has His Day In Cuba

Global Organization Planned By Unions

By VICTOR RIESEL

Global unions, spanning continents, striking in unison in the United States, Europe, Asia and Africa, are about to be born. And the embattled Walter Reuther is the attending physician.

Victor Riesel

That's why he planned his trip to Japan. That's why his brother Victor, head of the auto union's International Department, has spent months in Europe. That's why colleagues of Reuther in the old CIO unions have flown into Asia during the past few years. That's why they've invited foreign union chiefs, especially the Japanese, to visit their American union headquarters.

That's why the Reuthers and their colleagues have been teaching European, especially Italian, labor leaders, American strike techniques. That's why the Japanese, for example, have been studying so feverishly and fervently the 1959 U.S. 116-day steel strike.

There will be no lack of financing for this liaison work. Reuther has his union's authority to spend $1.4 million a year to aid labor movements of the world —especially in the new nations of Africa and the ancient lands of Asia.

THIS MONEY is the interest earned by the auto union's $40 million strike fund. With it Reuther plans to contribute to social welfare centers, training schools, labor colleges, and to the activities of such labor group as the Kenya Federation of Labour.

Bedrock of most of these global unions is an international organization virtually unknown in the U.S.—but which Walter and Victor have helped build over the past decade. We "insiders" call it the "IMF"—the International Metalworkers Federation. Headquarters—Geneva.

In it are unions which encompass all metal workers, fabricators, etc., unlike the setup in the United States, which has separate steel and auto unions. In Germany, for example, the world's largest union—almost two million strong—includes the steel and auto workers.

It is led by Reuther's good friend, the militant Otto Brenner. I have no doubt that some day the United Auto Workers here and the auto division of Brenner's union there will pull simultaneous strikes on car plants owned by the same American corporation.

THE BASIC mechanism to pull such an international stoppage already exists in an IMF division called the "Automotive Department." Its president is Walter Reuther. When it calls an international convention of its unions, now in 15 countries, Victor Reuther chairs the sessions in Walter's absence.

The Detroit headquarters of the United Auto Workers has organized a global "International Council of Ford Workers," for world bargaining.

There are other sections to the IMF. And they are mighty militant. Recently they have pulled hard, fast strikes across Italy and even in Brazil. There are reports that Reuther will visit these European units on his way home.

Reuther has been preceded in Japan by his intimate friend and colleague, James Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Carey and Yukichi Takehana, president of the Denki Roren (Federation of Electrical Workers of Japan), made a pact which, in effect, calls for joint strikes against corporations operating in both the United States and Japan. There are several such corporations. The strategy is to tie them up at both ends.

CAREY NOW is reported eager to extend this global action technique to Europe, where U.S. electrical and electronic companies have scores of big plants.

And virtually unpublicized have been the international activities of the United Steelworkers (USW) leaders. In Japan recently, I had a long session with one of the worlds most militant union chiefs, Akira Iwai, head of the four-million member Sohyo (General Council of Trade Unions of Japan). The American union which fascinated him most and from which he said he could learn much in strike technique was the USW. Over and over he asked for details on the 116-day USW strike.

During that national stoppage, Sohyo had sent the Pittsburgh union $2,500. It was a loan. But Sohyo would have lost face if he had accepted repayment. Reciprocating the gesture, the Steelworkers, some of whose officials have been in Japan, invited Sohyo steel union leaders to the United States. There has been discussion of international joint action in this field. So has there been similar talk across the other continents.

From these talks, conferences, and loose international federations, will come global unionism instead of national unionism as we know it today.

Issues That Remain

By Raymond Moley

As the tumult and the shouting cease, while tattered campaign posters flutter in the November winds like withered leaves, party managers face the problem of paying off their deficits, and Americans give their undivided attention to Cuba and their own jobs, it is time to consider with cool heads and disciplined emotions those political issues which remain unchanged.

Those who read trends this way or that way into the election results should bear in mind that such indicators of things to come are capricious and inconstant. Public opinion will shift with many circumstances between now and the 1964 presidential campaign.

Also, it must be remembered that this was not one election but many. Results in states and congressional districts were measurably dictated by local conditions and personal considerations. Some of the results were determined in the last hours before the polling on Tuesday.

All the pollsters and all the political dope peddlers are unable to read what went on in the minds of those voters who provided the margin between victory and defeat.

THERE ARE WEEKS ahead during which the results can be analyzed. At the moment, however, it can be noted with confidence that the broad ideological issues which divide Americans will remain for the next two years and probably for many to come after that. These stand fast.

Marking the two ends of the ideological spectrum are what are called the extremists of the left and the right. Those who under the name "liberal" would promote vast new powers for the government at home and appeasement abroad, and those who would use extreme measures to check such trends may be negligible so far as voting strength is concerned. But because they are extremely articulate they get vast attention in the news.

To be moderate is to be gray and unnewsworthy. The headlines concern themselves with those who overstate their case.

During this campaign much was heard of the extremists on both sides.

Democrats were at pains to attribute to their Republican opponents affiliation with or support by "the extreme right," or Birchism, or the Birch Society itself.

Republicans countered with claims that their opponents followed the line of the Americans for Democratic Action or that they were "soft on Communism."

The groundwork for this had been laid by the attention that these extremists have received from the press and comments on the airwaves. However, it must be noted that among those who have had access to the public prints, and other media of communication, there has been vastly more castigation of the extreme right than of its counterpart, the extreme left.

As a corrective of this imbalance, there has appeared a small book, "The Fringe on Top." Its author is the very articulate and sound conservative editor of the Indianapolis News, M. Stanton Evans.

In the preparation of this indictment of the extreme left, Evans had the assistance of Allan H. Ryskind and William Shultz. They contend, quite correctly, that since "radical right" has been so severely castigated, it is essential that an examination be made of the organizations and individuals who have been active in the ADA and also those who in their expressions of foreign affairs have advocated dangerous appeasement of the Communist powers.

THE BOOK MAKES the valid point that the "fringe on the left" is more dangerous than the "fringe on the right," because so many of its members are now also members of the Kennedy Administration. They are not, according to this book, "clamoring to get into power." They are "already there."

While these fringes to the left and the right are, as I have often noted in what I have written, an unfortunate burden to be carried by sound and reasonable members of both political parties, they do serve a useful purpose.

Like the fleas that bar a dog from overindulgence in sleep, they remind all of us that there is a profoundly important division among Americans about national policies.

While the judgment and methods of the extremists may be deplored, they do serve to awaken us to realities. This election, however, has proved that the bulk of the voting population did not favor extremists on either side.

Carroll in Colorado lost to a moderate conservative. In Pennsylvania, Scranton's record in his first and only term in Congress indicated that he is not the most conservative Republican but ranks well in the upper third.

Where Democrats won, such as Morrison in Nebraska and Dempsey in Connecticut, the voters recognized competent and able Democratic governors who were not too closely associated with the liberal wing of their party. This is a measure of satisfaction to those who want to avoid extremes on both sides.

50 At Meeting Over Merger Of Railroads

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare, Solicitor William Bush, County Commissioner Frank Wilson, Treasurer Charles Stewart, and R. J. Marshall, local agent in charge of the East Liverpool and Wellsville freight offices.

Rogers contended that 74 jobs will be lost in Wellsville. He said 16 east-bound trains now run through Wellsville but this will be cut to seven under the merger.

He said the loss of jobs would mean 219 persons will leave the community, $118,104 will be lost in the sale of food and beverages, $38,852 will be lost in rent, 65 home mortgages will be foreclosed, $37,840 will be lost in the sale of furniture, etc., there will be $45,066 less spent for clothing, $64,898 less for transportation, $8,362 less in beauty shops and $25,160 for education.

He said there will be 129 fewer workers, 85 fewer households, 38 less students in the schools and $199,000 less in area banks and three retail businesses will be closed.

While citing the figures, he listed the names of area businesses in Wellsville, East Liverpool and Chester, asking what will happen to them.

Rogers cited the fear of monopoly if the railroads merge, pointing out the combined business would be worth $5.4 billion. He said the Interstate Commerce Commission informed Sen. Estes Kefauver it has no idea of the economics effected by the move, if it is made. He cited several other points he said were made to the senator in correspondence with the ICC.

Rogers said the brotherhood also is concerned about the miles of track to be ripped out, about how much political power the two companies will have, of what is going to happen to competition and the reduction in the freight schedule.

Gibson cited the loss of tonnage and steel moving from the area is one reason for decline in revenues by the railroad. He said the St. Lawrence Seaway already has made inroads on import ores. The ore now is bypassed over eastern railroads and taken directly to Lake Erie ports.

The total tonnage of both railroads is just about equal to what Pennsylvania handled alone in 1943 and 1944, he said.

Rogers had cited a fear of what the merger would do to "national defense," while Gibson said there are no movements of heavy defense machinery anymore as in World War II because of today's electronics weapons.

Baird said that "In Columbiana County last year the Pennsylvania Railroad paid $265,157 in property taxes. In Jefferson County our tax bills was $289,650. The total for the state of Ohio was $5,660,637."

"A bankrupt railroad can't pay taxes," he said.

Baird said the labor unions are exaggerating the number of employes who will lose jobs because of the merger. "Union leaders are claiming falsely that most of our freight is going to be diverted to lines of the New York Central, relegating the PRR to branch line status. The fact is that the tonnage to be carried on the main line of the Pennsylvania would be 20 per cent greater than that carried by any other single segment of the merged railroad — including any part of what is now the main line of the New York Central," he declared.

He said not one mile of line will be abandoned as a result of the merger. The union asserted many parallel lines will be ripped out.

Baird said the Pennsylvania is in severe financial difficulty. He said the total number of employes between Yellow Creek and Midland is 104. "Our merger plan contemplates no change in tracks in this area, no change in the frequency of local service to industry in this area and no reduction in maintenance or yard forces."

The merger plan does contemplate some reduction in the number of through trains, he said. Between Yellow Creek and Conway there would be an estimated nine fewer eastbound trains and four fewer westbound trains, or a total of 13. This will have no effect on service in this area as they are through trains which do not stop, he said.

The crews which operate these trains work out of either Conway or Columbus. It is impossible to know where those who may be affected have their residence, but it is unlikely that many, if any, live in Columbiana County.

Rogers and others contended the firm should advertise in newspapers, magazines, etc., in an effort to obtain more business.

Rogers commented "we have heard of the decline of traffic but what happens to a businessman if he doesn't advertise and keeps crying 'poor mouth'."

Rogers also cited the high salaries of company officials, asserting these could be cut to save the firm money.

Patmore said there is no law to make the railroad live to its promises after the merger. He urged the community to take advantage of field hearings scheduled for Columbus and Cleveland.

The brotherhood committee's ultimate goal is to prevent the proposed merger by arousing public sympathy and attempting to persuade local governing bodies to intervene and request area field hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

McCann said the merger would effect some through traffic on the Bayard line to Yellow Creek but it will not effect "you people here in this district."

The Wellsville and Mingo yards will be maintained, he said. He said there are 104 on the payroll in the Wellsville and East Liverpool areas. These jobs will not change if the traffic remains the same.

He said if the merger goes through, a $1½ million expenditure will be made at Conway to improve engine house facilities.

After the speakers concluded, the floor was then open for questions and answers from the audience.

In regards to displaced persons —the firm estimated a total of 7,800 in the system may lose jobs —railroad spokesmen said "Those transferred to lower paying jobs will receive the difference between current and previous earnings for five years from the date of change. Most of those seperated from service will receive 100 per cent of previous earnings for up to four years and in any case none will receive less than 60 per cent for up to five years, depending on the date of separation and the length of service."

Several from the audience indicated they do not believe this, citing mergers of other railroads where it was promised but never given. Baird said he can speak only for the Pennsylvania.

One railroader said he understands Crestline will be abolished. McCann said there will be no change in passenger service or local freight service although some changes are anticipated at Crestline. Railroaders from Mansfield and Canton also expressed their views.

Near the conclusion, E. R. Karsh, grand chaplain for the brotherhood, said he does not believe it is necessary to pay the retiring president of the railroad such a large pension. He said this money could be used to keep the company going.

Sportsmen To Give Safe Hunter Course

The South Side Sportsmen's Club Tuesday night planned to start a hunters safety course Friday with Bill McCarrell as instructor.

McCarrell also spoke. A turkey shoot will be held Dec. 9. Some of the proceeds from the recent turkey shoot will be used to start a rifle range.

It was announced that a membership drive will be held through Jan. 31. Next meeting will be Nov. 30 at the clubhouse off Route 168 south of Laughlins Corners. Robert Dawson is president.

The President's cup Regatta was first held on a quiet September afternoon in 1926.

Fleeing Thief Crashes Auto

Fleeing in an auto stolen in East End, a thief plunged the car over the Ohio River embankment on the River Rd. late Tuesday night or early today, police reported.

Demolished in the crash was a 1958 four-door sedan owned by Jerry Lee Stone, 1185 Erie St., reported stolen from a parking place in front of the Veterans Social Club on Pennsylvania Ave. sometime between 5:30 p. m. yesterday and 12:48 this morning, police said.

Patrolman Jack Strobel found the wrecked car at 6:37 a. m. today. The auto took out two guardrail posts as it dived over the River Rd. embankment just west of the Ohio Valley Boat Club's docks near Ralstons Crossing, police said.

The car may have been wrecked shortly before midnight, officers said. The department received a report then that an auto had plunged over an embankment on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." But investigation disclosed no wrecked car. The unidentified informant may have reported the crash site mistakenly as the "Hill Rd." rather than the River Rd., police said.

Stone, the car's owner, had been in jail since 4 p. m. yesterday on a non-support charge filed by his estranged wife, Mrs. Molly Stone, police said. It alleged failure to provide for two children, 3 years and 4 months.

Pleading guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Stone was given a suspended 30-day term in County Jail. The sentence was suspended on condition he seek for work and supports the children. Stone told the judge he has been unemployed.

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Midland School Boiler Check Set

The Midland Board of Education Tuesday night hired Spears & Pascoe, New Castle heating engineers, to make a preliminary study of boiler needs at Lincoln High School.

The cost, expected to be about $160, will be deducted if the firm gets a contract to install two new boilers.

The board's action followed its request at last month's meeting for Supt. Ralph H. Jewell to consult an engineer for recommendations.

—:—

THE BOARD has discussed several times the need to replace the boilers, which are 35 years old and expected to last only through this year.

Henry (Hank) Kuzma, Lincoln High head basketball coach, was given a raise in salary from $1,100 to $1,450 on motion of Maurice Newman, finance chairman.

On motion of John Uccellini, who gave the playground committee report, Edward Olkowski was hired as instructor at $2.50 an hour for basketball classes on Saturdays, beginning Dec. 1 for 40 hours.

Ronald Markel was hired as assistant junior high basketball coach at a salary of $300 a year, on motion by Uccellini, athletics chairman.

—:—

UCCELLINI also commented on the recent Midland - East Liverpool game, thanking East Liverpool school officials for their co-operation in canceling the Friday game due to the weather and playing the game on Saturday night.

The board accepted the resignation of John Hineman III, social studies teacher, on motion of Leslie B. Roach, personnel chairman.

The board approved payment of $38,331.25 as principal and interest on a 1977 series of bonds and $2,187.50 for interest due on a series of 1971.

Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary, presented the school audit for last year. On motion of Newman, the audit was accepted and it was agreed to advertise it according to law and also to pay a $100 fee to each of the three auditors, Steve Luketich, Crum Dimeff and Mrs. Norma J. Liberatore.

—:—

APPROVAL was given for the purchase of new window blinds for two rooms at 1st St. School at a cost of $163.20 from the Hamilton Awning Co. of Beaver.

The board approved payment of $91.99 as the premium for renewal of insurance on the school car for the coming year with the McGeehan Agency.

Approval was given for the purchase of a newspaper rack, costing $140.20, for the high school library section at the Carnegie Library on recommendation of the librarian, Miss Helen Karcher. Supt. Jewell said there is a newspaper rack in the public section.

The rack is standard school library furniture and one is being obtained prior to the evaluation of the junior-senior high school next April.

APPROVAL was given for action of the property committee in recently repairing the retaining wall at 7th St. School at a cost of $200.

On recommendation of Supt. Jewell, the board approved the purchase of four transistor radios, at $40 each, for each of the four public schools in case of a nuclear attack or other disaster alert.

The motion also asked the property committee to look into the need for any other equipment for Civil Defense use.

Jewell said there is concern for pupils in case of a nuclear attack and a committee is studying plans for evacuating students to their homes or homes of friends.

HE SAID he is now waiting for co-operation of the Midland Civil Defense in order to hold a practice evacuation. He said the schools have no intention of turning pupils loose for such a drill unless the Civil Defense will provide protection at street crossings.

He said a Beaver County special class at 1st St. School would be taken to a safe place in that building. He said Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester consulting engineers, is expected to release soon a list of public shelters in the Midland area. The firm has been working on a Civil Defense survey.

Approval was given a request of the Midland area Chamber of Commerce for the Lincoln High School Band to march in the Chamber's annual Christmas parade, Friday, Nov. 23, at 7 p. m. The parade will form at 1st St. playground on Midland Ave.

DOMINIC DiVecchio, band director, was given permission to attend a band clinic in Chicago Dec. 19-22. Approval was given for Supt. Jewell to participate in the evaluation of the Quaker Valley High School March 12-14.

Jewell reported on American Education activities this week at the various schools. He said open house is being held at 1st and 7th St. Schools tonight and at 4th St. School Thursday night. The high school open house was last night.

He said about 40 guests were expected to attend the special school visitation being held today. Exhibits have been placed in three stores downtown. He complimented Mrs. Janet Tepsic, public relations director, for organizing the week's activities.

—:—

SAMUEL Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported trouble with the scoreboard clock at the athletic field. He said he expects a report on recommendations for repairing it or replacing it with a bulb type clock similar to the one in the new gymnasium building. The clock was last sent away for repairs in 1957.

The board approved the attendance of two dependent children in Midland schools.

A letter was received from the Industry Civil Defense Emergency Welfare Council in appreciation for use of high school facilities during a recent home nursing course.

General bills in the amount of $6,648.18 were approved, along with interim orders placed last month by Jewell in the amount of $606.15. A book list for the library was approved in the amount of $104.10.

—:—

CASH receipts of $1,019.64, including $1,000 tuition, were voted to the proper account.

Mrs. Eldamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $432,074.06 as of Oct. 31. Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, reported $8,034.87 deposited in October, leaving a balance of $25,181.73 on the tax duplicate.

Edward Cilli, vice president, presided in the absence of James Morrison, president. A special meeting will be held Dec. 3 for reorganization.

Bishop Attacks Decision To End Cadet Teachers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bishop-elect Clarence E. Elwell, superintendent of Cleveland Catholic schools, has criticized the state board of education for its decision to end the cadet teacher program in 1968.

In small public school communities the Catholic school officials of Ohio may find allies fighting for continuance of the cadet teacher program, Bishop Elwell said Tuesday.

Cadets are grade school teachers who are certified after only two years of college training on condition they will complete their work toward a degree.

Bishop Elwell said nearly 10 per cent—234—of the 2,543 grade school teachers in the Cleveland Diocese are cadets.

The state board's decision to end the program was made Monday in Columbus. Under the new ruling, 1966 will be the deadline for students entering college under the cadet training program.

The pocketbook is black, decorated with flowers, she said. In addition to the cash, it contained a red billfold, a bank book, car keys, a knife and some pills, she said.

Board Hires 3 For Lisbon School Staff

LISBON — Three teachers were hired by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night when plans to establish a language laboratory at the David Anderson High School were also approved.

Hired as instructors were William Rowan of Salem, Mrs. Dorothy Foulkes, 249 W. Lincoln Way, and Paul Reeves of Columbiana.

Rowan will teach third grade starting the second semester, replacing Mrs. Sandra Rowan, his sister-in-law. The semester will provide practice teaching for Rowan, who is to be graduated from Youngstown University.

Mrs. Foulks will teach kindergarten. A registered nurse with three years teaching experience, she is the wife of Kent Foulkes, Mt. Union College Placement Bureau director.

Reeves, a retired banker, replaces Joshua Marks, who resigned as mathematics instructor.

The board authorized Supt. Oliver Payne to set up the language lab at the high school at a cost not to exceed $7,000, half of which will be paid by the state.

Discussion was held on damage caused at the three schools by pupils. Police will be asked to check the Lincoln School where entries have been made, and teachers will be requested to report on any destruction in classes.

The board formally accepted the new 14-room addition at the McKinley School, completed and in use since September. An adjustment to the heating system is to be completed over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Supt. Payne was authorized to attend the annual convention of American School Administrators at Atlantic City. Mrs. Margaret Lucas was granted permission to attend a state reading institute at Columbus Thursday through Saturday.

Replacement of typewriters and obtaining dictating equipment for the co-operative office education program was discussed, and Supt. Payne was authorized to make arrangements.

Discussion was held on married students attending high school, but the board took no official stand.

Dr. Wade Bacon, president, reviewed Civil Defense preparations. The board is expected to establish a school emergency policy and slate drills.

Bills totaling $42,058 for payrolls and supplies were paid. The board will meet Dec. 11.

Refugees Get U.S. Warning

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Anti-Castro refugees were warned at a mass meeting Tuesday night that any who are caught attempting to escape abroad from this U.S. naval base will be expelled from the base and returned to Cuba.

The warning followed by two days the arrest of 14 refugees who were trying to stow away on a merchant ship bound for the United States. All 14 are now in the Navy brig here. They have refused to eat or work.

There are about 440 Cuban refugees here. About 200 of them class themselves as violent opponents of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Formerly there were about 560 refugees at the base, but about 100 managed to escape.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said the warning was delivered at a meeting by a U.S. naval intelligence officer.

Some of the refugees boycotted the meeting. They had found out in advance what it was about and refused to attend.

One Cuban source said some of the refugees were planning to test whether the United States actually would send them back to Cuba —and possible death.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, commander of the base, refused to comment on the warning. Policy respecting the refugees is determined by the U.S. State Department.

Other members of the committee are Don Brown and Richard Haynes. New officers assumed duties with James Ashcroft, president, presiding. Since William Green, who was elected treasurer previously, turned down the position, Charles Wright was elected.

Rebroadcast Slated Of Nixon's 'Obituary'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Taft Broadcasting Corp. has scheduled a rebroadcast tonight on its Columbus Channel 6 television outlet of the controversial program, "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

The company planned a similar rebroadcast of the program on its Channel 12 outlet in Cincinnati Friday.

Both showings were set for 6:30 p.m.

Lawrence H. Rogers 2nd, Taft executive vice president, said Tuesday night the original program last Sunday was not broadcast because officials considered it in questionable taste and could not see it ahead of time.

He said there were some telephone calls Sunday night from irate viewers who wanted to know why the station departed from its schedule.

"Since Monday," he said, "The telegrams, telephone calls and letters we've received on the matter have been overwhelmingly congratulatory.

"A small minority condemned the action, violently condemned us for what they usually called censorship."

Rogers said a few of those praising the action called later and expressed opposition to the decision to show the program after all.

The program was put together after Nixon, former vice president and Republican candidate for the presidency in 1960, was defeated in a bid for the governor's post in California.

The commentator for the program was Howard K. Smith. Those appearing on it included Alger Hiss, convicted of perjury after a congressional probe that helped Nixon become known politically.

The Taft stations, in an editorial Tuesday, told viewers that "we refused to televise a show which we had not seen and about which we had no advance warning, which was controversial in nature and which appeared to justify a convicted perjurer. . .

"We don't ask that you agree with it and we ourselves do not agree with the judgment to use Hiss, but we are in a position to make a judgment. We were not in such a position last Sunday."

Wellsville Group Buys Seal Bond

Purchase of a $5 Christmas Seal bond was authorized and a new member was welcomed and two others were accepted for membership at a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Clara Babolic was welcomed as the new member attending her first meeting. Mrs. Patty Andrews and Mrs. Marjorie Kinzel were accepted as new members. Their names were submitted by Mrs. Dorothy McCreary, membership chairman.

A discussion was held on the planning for a Community Chest in Wellsville.

The group decided to wait until Valentine Day to present gifts to patients at rest homes, instead of at Christmas.

A gift exchange will be held at the meeting Dec. 11. The social committee includes Mrs. Evelyn Nightingale, chairman, Mrs. Mary Carroll, Mrs. Grace Woodward, Mrs. Martha Sommers, Mrs. Goldie Steele and Mrs. Jean Tipton.

Mrs. Floreine Broderick, president, conducted business. Refreshments were served by Mrs. McCreary, Mrs. Doris McMorrow and Mrs. Betty McDowell.

Ike Says Present Income Tax Rates Hurt Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says present income tax rates are a drag on the economy and require an overhaul "to provide a wider purchasing power for all the people."

Eisenhower told the Economic Club of New York Tuesday night that, as a matter of fiscal prudence, any substantial lowering of taxes should be accompanied by commitments to hold constant or reduce federal spending in the next two years.

The former president shared the rostrum with Lucius D. Clay, former U.S. military governor of Germany, who said this country's arms quarantine of Cuba was effective while sparing the Cuban people from any further privations.

In his talk, Eisenhower called the economy "fundamentally strong, needing only a reasonable encouragement by government and a renewed confidence in the future to resume its dynamic progress."

The present tax structure, he said, "was substantially devised in the depression and shaped further in war" and "is not suited to the 1960s." He said it "stifles incentives, impedes investments and has weakened us economically at a time when we should be gaining strength."

Eisenhower said he believes any tax modification "should improve the ability of industry to modernize and keep modern plants, machinery and techniques."

Furthermore, he said, the nation should seek to preserve economic freedom by ending what he termed "the drift of power toward Washington" and "the encroachment of executive power at the expense of the legislative."

Clay told the group that the quarantine imposed by this country on Cuba was able to accomplish the basic purpose of acting against the missile buildup. A full blockade, he said, would have "cut off the essentials of life to the Cuban people and would have been almost as cruel as the (Soviet) blockade of Berlin in 1948."

'Sabin Sunday' Put Off In Dayton, County

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The "Sabin Sunday" scheduled for Dayton and Montgomery County Dec. 9 has been put off at least until late winter or early spring.

4 Chamber Members Slated To Attend Statewide Meeting

Four Chamber of Commerce members will leave this afternoon to attend the 69th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber Thursday in Columbus.

The delegation, announced Tuesday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees, is comprised of: Alvin T. Babb, president; A. C. Purinton Jr., treasurer; Atty. Francis H. Lang, a member of the board and past president, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager.

The statewide meeting will be highlighted by unveiling of a life-size oil portrait of John H. Glenn Jr., a native Ohioan who was the first American to orbit the earth in a space satellite.

Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president of Capital University and a member of the Ohio Chamber Board of Directors, will present the painting to the state of Ohio by giving its custody to the Ohio Historical Society.

The state Chamber will elect 24 new directors. The board, in turn, will choose new officers.

While in Columbus, Chandler and Lang will form part of a delegation that will confer with Highway Director Everett S. Preston on future plans for construction of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway, linking East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

The delegation will be comprised of members of the Board of Directors of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Highway Association who will be attending the Ohio Chamber meeting. Both Lang and Chandler represent Columbiana County on the association's board. The delegation will be headed by Paul Mossman of Youngstown, president.

Yesterday's board meeting also was highlighted by appointment of a nominating committee by Babb. The committee will present a slate of 14 nominees at the next meeting Dec. 11, clearing the way for the annual election of seven members of the board.

Named from the ranks of retiring board members, the committee is comprised of: Ralph W. Betts, George Bloomgren, David G. Boyce, C. V. Hughes and Purinton.

Boyce was named as chairman.

Following approval of the slate by the board at the December meeting, ballots will be mailed to all Chamber members.

Chandler announced the Chamber has been invited to send representatives to a meeting on 1963 legislative problems, scheduled Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Onesto Hotel in Canton under the sponsorship of the Ohio Chamber.

The Canton meeting is one of seven regional sessions being arranged by the state organization. Heads of three Ohio Chamber departments are scheduled to speak: Norman Baker, taxation and research; George Bradley, social legislation, and John Senn, legislative affairs.

Reports were presented on the fall membership meeting Oct. 30 at the Country Club and the Industry Appreciation Week program sponsored jointly by the Chamber and the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Don Eckert reported on recent activities of the businessmen's group, particularly plans for the community Christmas program.

Columbiana, Dale Murphy Sweep Area Grid Honors

DALE MURPHY, takes a handoff from his coach George Fisher and the record of 8-1 on the football was the mark posted by the Columbiana Clippers this season, the top record among district teams. Columbiana swept all the honors as their fine back Murphy captured the individual scoring title by chalking up 102 points.

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 14

Clippers 8-1 Mark Leads District; Cumberland, Stanton Near Top

It was too much Dale Murphy and Columbiana High during the 1962 grid season, with the combination teaming up to take the top honors on the district football front.

Murphy waited until the final night to annex the individual scoring title and Coach George Fisher's Clippers piled up an 8-1 season record to gain the team honors.

Out of the 17 schools which comprise the area, seven teams wound up with winning marks, two broke even and the other eight wound up on the losing end.

East Liverpool is the only team which hasn't completed its season. The Potters battle big odds when they go up against a crack Alliance outfit Friday. The Aviators travel to Patterson Field after splashing around the mud in a 12-12 tie with Niles last week.

—:—

MURPHY, the Irish - named lad who was a hard fellow to bring down, was behind in the district scoring race going into last Friday's game. He trailed Lisbon's fine back Dave Rose.

Columbiana met East Palestine Friday and Murphy, playing his final game before the home fans, put on a scoring show which saw him cross the goal four times.

The performance shot his total to 102,14 points better than Rose, who scored his team's only touchdown in a loss to Hubbard.

The Columbiana star has already received a flock of college offers and it looks like he is headed for Northwestern University.

—:—

WHILE Rose was the runnerup with 88, a pair of exciting New Cumberland backs were in the third and fourth spots separated by two points.

Jim Burskey wound up with 78 points, while his teammate Allen Pettit carried the pigskin for 76.

George Gaydos of Beaver Local, who made a habit of gaining about 100 yards every game, was fifth in the scoring race with 70 points, followed by Salem's Bill Beery with 66, John Pearson of Stanton Local 62, Paul Conrad, Leetonia 55 and Jim Ward of Columbiana, 48.

—:—

LOUISVILLE, one of the top-ranked teams in the state, was the only squad to defeat Columbiana this season, 20-8. Louisville went on to remain undefeated, but was tied by Minerva last Friday.

Fisher's team compiled the best record at Columbiana since 1953. The 1960 mark also was commendable, with the Clippers showing ar 8-2 slate.

—:—

STANTON Local and New Cumberland were only a step behind the Clippers. Stanton lost only one game out of eight, winning six and tieing one.

Coach Don McBride of Stanton has lost only two games in three seasons. He arrived at Stanton Local in 1961 after having an undefeated campaign at Hopedale in 1960.

Coach John Kuzio came up with another big winner at New Cumberland. In 1961, the Blue Raiders owned a 7-2-1 mark, but improved on that this season with an 8-2 showing, mainly due to the scoring ability of Burskey and Pettit.

—:—

BEAVER Local and Crestview finished with identical 7-3 records. The Beavers of Coach Jack O'Rourke after winning their first five games took a slight nose dive, but pulled out in time for another respectable campaign.

Crestview would gain honors if there was an award for the comeback team of the year. Crestview dropped its first three contests, scoring only one touchdown in three games, then something happened. The Rebels tasted their first victory in the fourth game with North Lima then went on to win seven straight, the longest winning streak put together in the district this season.

In the streak Crestview outscored its opponents 148-62 and chalked up a pair of shutouts along the way.

Musuraca Has Big Day

THIS WAS THE SCENE in the Denison University dressing room following the Big Red's 30-0 romp over Oberlin College last Saturday at Granville. East Liverpool's Nick Musuraca (32) (center) and teammate Tony Hall (40) congratulate each other while other Big Red players cheer in the background. Hall roled up 206 yards rushing to eclipse Musuraca's single game record of 197 set in 1960. Musuraca turned in a tremendous performance himself—the ex-Potter all-stater, rushed for 175 yards in 25 carries and scored three of Denison's four touchdowns

Potters Small, But Harris Shows Experienced Cagers

Although still comparatively small as basketball players go, Coach Jim Harris expressed confidence Tuesday the 1962-63 Potter basketball team won't make the mental errors that cost five games last season.

Addressing the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel, Harris said one of the chief advantages for this year's cage team will be the presence of five returning lettermen, all of whom were starters at one time or another last season.

LAST YEAR'S team, the head coach explained, had only one experienced player and lost five games by one point apiece, chiefly because of inexperience.

In contrast to the experience, The Potters again will lack height. One boy is about 6-3 but the rest range from 5-10 to 6-1. The lack of height also can lose games even though the Potters may have the lead, Harris said, explaining the boy 6-foot tall has his strength sapped by the late stages of the game when he must try to jump with boys 4 and 5 inches taller.

"That's the only thing that disturbs me — fans expecting more out of a kid than he reasonably can give."

—:—

ABOUT 20 more hopefuls will report Monday at the end of the football season to join 24 remaining from the record 65 who reported at the start of the season. The 65 was the largest turnout in his four years here as head coach, Harris said.

However, further cuts will be made to reduce the squad to a maximum of 25 with 10 on the varsity and the remainder forming the reserves, he said.

Although the large turnout is an encouraging sign, working with such a large group handicaps Harris and his assistant, Frank Chan because of doubts on whether a mistake is made in cutting some players.

MANY of those reporting have had no prior experience, Harris continued, pointing out some boys even taller than those retained must be out.

"We don't want to slight any boy but sometimes it is done unintentionally," he said, pointing out it is hard to work with some taller boys because by the time they develop they are ready to graduate.

The Potters will play 10 home games and 8 away this season with the schedule including the seven other members of the Big 8 Conference. Four will be played at Memorial Auditorium and three on the road.

Harris was introduced by Lawrence Sixt, program chairman.

Atty. Warren Bettis, publicity chairman, spoke briefly about the fund drive to establish a mental health clinic. George Hargraves discussed a program to curb high school "dropouts". Sidney C. Porter, president, presided.

Sports 7-2-1 Record

10th Rated Alliance Ends Season Here Friday Night

The Alliance Aviators, who just made it in Ohio's elite group by placing 10th in the final poll, come to town Friday night to ring down the football curtain on the district scene.

Alliance has the worst record in the top 10, but the Aviators bounced back to tie Niles 12-12, last Friday in the mud.

Coach Mel Knowlton's team opened the season on a sour note losing to Lima Senior, 13-8 and it looked at the time as if Alliance was in for only a mediocre season.

However, the Aviators bounced back topping Akron Central and Cleveland East Tech, then came the game that pushed the Alliance crew right to the top of the pack, a crushing 46-0 victory over Massillon. That win stood as the finest hour in Alliance football.

Knowlton's team went on to win six straight until Toledo Devilbiss came up to surprise the Aviators 28-8 sending them into a tailspin right out of the top 10.

Alliance pulled itself up by its bootstraps to knock off Akron St. Vincent and regained its prestige last week by playing Niles to a standstill.

Alliance will be shooting for an 8-2-1 mark on its eleven game schedule.

The Potters on a two game winning streak will carry a 3-6 record into the finale.

USC Favored To Sink Navy

'Bama Picked Over Tech As Lothbridge Vs. Namath

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There must have been frost on the pumpkin used as last week's crystal ball in making the college football selections. Forty-one winners out of 58 decisions meant an average of only .707.

Here are this weekend's winners with no assurance that there are not as many traps as last week:

Southern California over Navy: The Trojans are edging toward the Rose Bowl with Pete Beathard and Bill Nelson at the controls of their attack.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Probably the most rugged battle in the South since Grant took Richmond. A duel within a duel pits Joe Namath of Alabama against Tech's Billy Lothridge.

Minnesota over Purdue: Two of the country's best defensive outfits tangle with the host Gophers having slightly the better of it because their line is anchored by Bobby Bell.

Texas over Texas Christian: A year ago TCU's Sonny Gibbs shot down the Longhorns with a single pass, 6-0. This year Texas offers the passing of Tommy Wade in rebuttal.

Missouri over Oklahoma: The Tigers could clinch the Big Eight title and an Orange Bowl bid in this one. Johnny Roland gives them a slight edge.

Penn State over Holy Cross: The Nittany Lions are the East's only consistant football team.

Mississippi over Tennessee: The nickname of the Tennessee team is the Volunteers. This year the name is spelled with a small v.

Northwestern over Michigan State: Tom Myers will regain his pitching eye although the Spartans, already out of the Big Ten race, might duplicate last week's Wisconsin massacre of the Wildcats if they put handles on the ball.

Army over Pittsburgh: Each team needs a victory to redeem itself. The redemption goes to the Cadets.

Louisiana State over Mississippi State: The Bayou Bengals should have no trouble with Jerry Stovall healthy.

Arkansas over Southern Methodist: Once more Billy Moore will be the decisive factor.

Washington over UCLA: The Huskies' hex over California teams when they visit Seattle will prevail.

Duke over Wake Forest: The kicking of Bill Reybolds plus Jay Wilkinson too much for Wake Forest.

Wisconsin over Illinois: The Badgers have an adding machine type of attack.

Also, Ohio State over Oregon, Kentucky over Xavier, Miami (Ohio) over Cincinnati, Dayton over Wichita and Tulsa over Toledo.

Davis Definitely Out For 1962, Brown Says

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns says rookie halfback Ernie Davis will not be activated in 1962.

Brown squelched any chance of the Syracuse All-America, sidelined this season by leukemia, playing this year in responding to a question Tuesday night on the coach's radio program.

Davis has been working out with the team since last month when doctors reported the disease was in a perfect state of remission, a development that is not uncommon in leukemia cases. It means there is presently no trace of the disease in his blood, but there is no assurance the disease will not recur.

Davis says he feels good and is anxious to play. He has been running and doing calisthenics during the Browns' practice sessions.

Art Modell, club president, said recently there was a question whether Davis could help the team more than the player whose place he would take on the roster.

USC Guard Is Selected Week's No. 1 Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California virtually wrapped up a Rose Bowl bid by trouncing Stanford 39-14 last Saturday.

Damon Bame, a guard, played a major role in the triumph. His spectacular work up front won him today the lineman of the week award by The Associated Press.

The 5-foot-11, 187-pound junior from Glendale, Calif., was the only individual singled out for praise by Trojan coach, John McKay, after the game.

This is what Bame did:

He made or assisted in nine tackles. In addition he intercepted a Stanford pass on the Trojan 47 and almost returned it for a touchdown. He was caught on the Stanford 4. When Stanford held on downs on the 1, he broke through on the first play and threw fullzone for a safety.

"It was the best job of linebacking I've seen this season," reported Jack Stevenson, Associated Press Sports Writer at San Francisco. "Bame was agile and showed an uncanny ability to make the proper move to thwart offensive plays."

2 Games Open Second ABL Season Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Basketball League opens its second year of operation tonight and Commissioner Abe Saperstein is optimistic as ever the operation will succeed.

Saperstein, who owns the Chicago entry in the 6-team league and also built the Harlem Globetrotters into one of sports' most profitable ventures, has added another innovation this season.

Last year the ABL came up with the 3-point goal on a shot converted from 25 feet or more away from the basket. This season, the ABL will have doubleheaders played between the same two teams.

Tonight's opening schedule finds Chicago at Philadelphia and Kansas City at Oakland. Long Beach, Calif., and Pittsburgh will begin play later this week with Chicago at Pittsburgh Friday and Kansas City at Long Beach Sunday.

Chicago and Philadelphia meet again Thursday night in the league's first doubleheader. A regulation game calls for 12-minute quarters or 48 minutes. However, when teams engage in doubleheaders, each game will consist of 15-minute halves.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

If hunters and trappers would read the digest of laws given them at the time they purchase their licenses, there would be no questions regarding the common rules and regulations in effect this hunting and trapping season.

For instance, all night hunting for raccoon and opossum begins at 6 p. m. on Nov. 15.

Isn't that plain enough? Yet, I receive numerous calls about this regulation. Not that I object to answering questions, that is a part of the job. Apparently the main reason for such calls is to "check and double-check".

ABOUT 50 beautiful white whistling swans came to rest on Lake Guilford last Sunday.

This was a sight to see. Both state and federal laws protect them, and rightfully so. They are no good as far as food value is concerned. Some hunters have bagged one of the "white geese" and arrests have been made. One of the best penalties I can think of for shooting a swan would be for the hunter to be forced to eat it. I'll gurantee he never would shoot another one.

The rains we had over the weekend removed some of the woods fire hazards for the beginning of the small game hunting season. Not only that but the hunting dog has a damp ground that makes conditions better to sniff up the game.

The hunter bagging the most game is usually the one who has a good dog and allows the dog to do the hunting.

Any time you come to a good game looking spot it is much better to stand around and let the dog do the work. If the mutt is worth his bones, he'll find game if any exists.

—:—

TOO MANY hunters take off across the countryside and wear themselves out trying to flush out game when all they get is the exercise.

Such unnecessary tramping can be pretty rough on any man's constitution if he is not in physical shape. More than one hunter has been picked up in the field on his last leg for simply over-doing it.

All traps must be tagged when trapping for furbearing animals. One of the cheapest trap tags in existence that I know anything about is the one put out by Blake and Lamb. This is a "Rite-Ur-Own" piece of small strip of zinc that is easy as writing your own name with a lead pencil. In fact, you write your name and address on the tag with a lead pencil.

I don't trap, but I usually have a few with me when some farm kid gets a little out of line in order to get things straight.

Moore-Clay Ring Match Labeled 'Battle Of Ages'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Archie Moore-Cassius Clay boxing contest is billed as "the fight of the ages," a rather logical label when the ages of the participants are considered.

The affair is also a "battle of the lips," and it might even turn out to be the heavyweight fight of the year.

Clay, the loquacious one from Louisville, is a young man of but 20.

The age of Moore, the old mongoose from San Diego, is debatable, but somewhere in the upper 40s.

One-time triple champion Henry Armstrong once swore that he and Archie were boxing around St. Louis in smokers and the like in 1930.

Archie in the record book first fought formally in 1936.

Whatever the date or Moore's age, it is certain this remarkable man was fighting for a living before Cassius Marcellus Clay was born.

They go into the Sports Arena ring Thursday night for 12 rounds or less. Booked for closed theater circuit in a number of cities—no radio—the attraction is slated to start at 8 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

Give or take a few matches, Moore, the former world light heavyweight champion, will be in his 220th ring engagement. He has won 187 and scored a record 136 knockouts.

Cassius, the 1960 Olympic Games light heavyweight champion, will make his 16th start as a professional. He has not been whipped and has scored 12 knockouts.

Moore, famed for ballooning to 200 pounds and up between matches, appears to be a svelte—for Archie—198. He stands 5-feet-11 and has the build of a small bull in his shoulders and upper arms.

Clay is almost 6-3, weighs about 200 and, as even Archie admits, is a picture of bodily perfection.

Co-promoters George Parnasus and Cal Eaton hope to entice heavyweight champion Sonny Liston into a title fight with the winner, possibly next fall.

Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn of the Boston Celtics played college basketball at Holy Cross and still make their home in Worcester, Mass.

Fixer Made $10,000 On Cage Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Aaron Wagman has admitted he made approximately $10,000 fixing college basketball games during the seasons of 1959-60 and 1960-61.

Wagman so testified Tuesday during the trial of Jack Molinas while being cross-examined by Jacob Evseroff, Molinas' attorney. It was the fifth day Wagman had appeared on the witness stand.

However, Wagman added:

"I didn't come out ahead in any year. I gambled away what I made."

Molinas is charged with bribing Billy Reed of Bowling Green, Ohio, to fix three games in 1959 and 1960; with conspiracy in attempting to fix 25 college games and with subornation of perjury.

During his testimony, Wagman also said he and Joseph Green, an admitted co-conspirator, had agreed to end their dealings with Molinas after the 1957-58 season.

Uneasy Truce Reached In AAU-NCAA Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — The AAU and NCAA, at each other's throats for 2½ years in a bitter war of words and actions over control of amateur sports in the United States, were wedded in an uneasy coalition today.

The truce, reached Tuesday night after two days of intensive negotiations and a personal appeal from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, will hold until after the 1964 Olympics.

"But," said one high official, "We hope it will naturally evolve into something permanent."

No details were announced but The Associated Press learned that the agreement provides:

1. The NCAA-backed United States Track and Field Federation would be limited to educational institutions.

2. The AAU will remain the sanctioning agent in all international competition.

3. The coalition will rule internal open competition in the United States.

On the surface, it would appear that the AAU has fought off the NCAA challenge successfully. The AAU never has been particularly interested in college competition, and as a matter of fact, does not require collegiate meets to get its sanction.

The federation, on the other hand, had demanded sanctioning authority along with the AAU. This, the AAU maintained, was against the rules of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, the governing body of world track and field.

Neither Walt Byers, chief NCAA negotiator, nor Col. Don Hull, who headed the AAU team, would make any comment. Only a formal statement, read by United States Olympic Committee President Tug Wilson was released.

Both the NCAA and AAU must vote on the agreement.

Things had gotten to such a serious point that the NCAA was threatening to forbid college athletes to compete in AAU meets. The AAU, for its part, had warned that collegians who participated in non-sanctioned meets could be barred from the Olympics.

The agreement did not include basketball and gymnastics, two other sports that the two factions have been fueding over.

Federal Aid To Education Hot Topic At Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The issue of federal aid to education was the hottest topic as the joint convention of the Ohio School Boards Association, Ohio Association of School Administrators and Ohio Association of School Business Officials got into swing Tuesday.

The keynote speaker, Dr. Ernest Melby of Michigan State University, came out strongly in favor of bolstering education with federal funds.

In one of the sessions, State Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D - Summit, and Parma School Supt. Paul W. Briggs argued for federal aid. U. S. Rep. Charles A. Mosher, Republican from Oberlin, and Columbus School Supt. Harold Eibling argued against it.

Melby contended, "The federal government has the fairest tax structure in terms of ability to pay. It has the taxes that are the easiest to collect and hardest to avoid. In contrast, localities depend heavily on property taxes which fall on people without regard to ability to pay and are a heavy drag on small business."

Melby, a professor of education, said of fears that federal aid means federal control that "the fact is we had far more trouble with control coming from state support than from federal support."

Ocasek pointed to federal funds for unemployment, aid to dependent children and the like, remarking: "We say 'yes' to federal aid to some 27 departments in Ohio, yet 'no' to additional funds for education."

Mosher, on the other hand, said Ohio must come up with a fundamental remodeling of its own basic tax structure. When states abdicate their responsibility, he said, it drifts to Washington and stays there with increasing concentration.

Eibling and Mosher both said federal aid certainly would result in federal control of schools. Mosher said he feared the schools would be used as a "national political football." Eibling said it eventually would mean "control of teachers' salaries, textbooks, methods of teaching and school facilities."

In a symposium, a lawyer, a labor leader, a steel executive and a grange leader suggested various measures they believe needed in Ohio's public schools.

Attorney Hugh Calkins of Cleveland called for two state university programs, one requiring entrance examinations but one accepting all graduates of accredited high schools so that no talents go wasted.

Elmer F. Cope, Ohio AFL-CIO secretary - treasurer,, advocated better uniformity of school district enrollments. He also spoke out for increasing state aid to education by revising the tax structure to include a graduated income tax.

D. E. Reichelderfer, Armco Steel Corp. vice president in charge of finance, called for more attention to guidance counseling, courses and carefully evaluated more emphasis on economics vocational training courses.

Chester B. Alspach, former Ohio State Grange lecturer, said there is a need for better training for agriculture. He said only those naturally inclined to farm, and those financially able to do so, should.

Vote Set On Levy

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Talawanda District School Board at Oxford has agreed to a special election Dec. 11 seeking anew to pass a six-mill operating levy. A spokesman said the district will run into serious money trouble if the levy fails again. A proposed 8.57 mill levy failed in last week's election, 2,195-1,769.

Official Tally Certified For District Posts

The Nov. 6 election victories of Rep. Wayne L. Hays and State Sen. Edmund Sargus were confirmed in the official canvass of returns certified today to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown in Columbus by the County Election Board.

Both of the Democratic incumbents picked up a few votes in the final tabulation, compared with the unofficial canvass made on election night.

Rep. Hays' unsuccessful Republican opponent, Dr. John Carrigg of Steubenville, also gained a handful of votes in the official canvass. But the tabulation made a minor reduction in the final total credited to Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, the unsuccessful GOP candidate for state senator.

The figures represent the final totals from the five - county 18th Congressional District, which Rep. Hays serves, and the four-county 20th-22nd State Senatorial District, served by Sen. Sargus.

The official count shows a total of 66,327 for Rep. Hays, a gain of 201 from the 66,126 with which he was credited in the unofficial canvass.

It gives 42,336 to Dr. Carrigg, up 27 from the 42,309 shown for him in the unofficial canvass.

In the state senatorial race, Sargus emerged with a final total of 54,023, an increase of 122 from the 53,901 shown in the unofficial count. Elliott was credited with 43,590 in the final tabulation, down 48 from the 43,638 shown in the first tabulation.

The congressional district is comprised of Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison and Jefferson Counties. The state senatorial district is made up of the same counties, less Carroll.

The final tabulation shows the 501 precincts in the congressional district cast a total of 113,435 votes. The 473 precincts of the senatorial district showed 106,417 votes.

The Columbiana County board collects the returns from the other counties in the two districts, compiles the totals and forwards the figures to the secretary of state. The job of compiling the district returns falls on the board in East Liverpool because Columbiana is the most populous county in the two districts.

Rep. Hays will begin his eighth term. Sen. Sargus was named to his second term.

Here's the breakdown by counties in the vote for congressmen: Columbiana, Hays, 18,200, Carrigg, 14,219; Belmont, Hays, 20,356, Carrigg, 9,853; Carroll, Hays, 3,237, Carrigg, 3,415; Harrison, Hays, 3,294, Carrigg, 3,145, and Jefferson, Hays, 21,240, Carrigg, 11,704.

A county - by - county breakdown on the state senatorial race shows: Columbiana, Sargus, 12,808, Elliott, 18,242; Belmont, Sargus, 19,246, Elliott, 9,931; Harrison, Sargus, 2,761, Elliott, 3,379, and Jefferson, Sargus, 19,208, Elliott, 12,038.

Freeway

eral routes for many years, will become a quiet byroad.

Owen asked motorists to drive with extreme caution at the approach to the temporary connection between the freeway and present Route 30. Traffic entering the intersection from all directions will be required to stop, he explained.

Outbound freeway traffic approaching the temporary connection will be "squeezed" from two lanes to one, as the temporary connection is only two lanes wide. One lane is needed for inbound traffic and the other will be used outbound autos.

"It is an abrupt turn; traffic must proceed with extreme caution," Owen said.

In another last - minute job, the city must erect signs banning parking on the south side of W. 3rd St. between Market St. and Monroe St. Parking will be allowed to continue on the north side on W. 3rd.

"We hate to inconvenience the W. 3rd St. residents, but the parking ban is required by the volume of traffic that will flow over the street when the freeway is opened," Owen said.

Originally, parking was to have been banned on both sides on W. 3rd, but the city decided to compromise with the one-side ban, at least at the beginning, in order to hold the inconvenience to a minimum, the director said.

"We realize the situation will be strange and there will be problems," Owen said. "We ask the public to be patient and drive carefully until these problems are worked out."

Changes will be required in intersection stop signs along W. 3rd. At present, a sign requires W. 3rd traffic to stop and gives the right-of-way to Jackson St. traffic. This will be reversed, giving the right-of-way to the W. 3rd St. traffic.

Stop signs also will be required at other points where side streets intersect with W. 3rd, Owen said.

The freeway project actually dates back to 1955, when its construction was recommended in an arterial highway survey. The four-lane segment is in the southern terminal for the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway, which eventually will link East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

Dear Folks: Are you tired of fried chicken and potatoes? Try this for a change: Boil a hen until it falls apart. Don't just boil the hen in plain water. Let me tell you what I found out!

Any time I boil an ol' hen, young hen, or just a hen . . . no matter how old she was . . . I boil it in "chicken stock base." This is a condiment now on the market. You will find it in your spice department at your local grocery store.

I always put at least one rounded teaspoon of chicken base stock (it comes in many brands) into the water anytime I boil a chicken. This gives it more flavor than you can imagine!

Your chicken can be boiled in the morning. After it literally falls apart, turn off the fire, remove the lid from the pot and let it cool. Place the chicken on a platter. After it cools, remove all of the meat from the bone. Cast the bones aside.

Now here's what is going to make it so good.

Dip as much of this rejuvenated broth from the stock that you have just cooked — example, if you use packaged, precooked rice like I do, dip one cup of this stock into another pan with one cup of water. Add a pinch of saffron and bring this to a boil. Then dump in two cups of rice, slam the lid on, twist the lid a little bit — this somehow seals the lid and prevents the moisture from escaping.

Put the chicken that you have stripped from its bones back into the stock. Bring to a slow boil and make your gravy thickening. Into this thickening put another pinch of saffron. Within minutes this gravy has turned into a beautiful golden yellow, succulent dish. Too, this makes one old hen go a long way!

But here's where you are going to be most surprised. Just wait until you remove the top from that plain old rice. It will be brilliant yellow with a flavor all it's own.

Often, I add chopped pimentos and chopped green peppers and celery. This gives it color.

Now, in case you do not have pimento, peppers or celery, vary it from week to week by using chopped stuffed olives. This way you have red and green. It changes the taste of the rice again, making an entirely new dish.

When putting the chicken and gravy into your serving dish, always top it with fresh ground pepper! This is another aroma that whets our palates.

Place serving of rice on plate, top with the chopped chicken in gravy and watch your family eat!

Watch for a stewing chicken on sale. Pick up your saffron at the same time, and don't forget to buy a small bottle of chicken stock base.

The leftover chicken and gravy can be varied the next day by hard boiling some eggs . . . removing the yellow, chopping up the whites into little bite-sized pieces and putting them into the gravy itself as you reheat it. Simply put a few pieces of toast in your toaster. Slice diagonally, Lay this on your plate, pour on some of that chicken and gravy which contains your chopped egg whites. Take the hard boiled yellow and using your grater — grate the egg yolks on top of this open faced sandwich!

Serve with something red and something green, such as tomatoes and lettuce.

It's easy, quick and on cloud nine! Happy Eating!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: In the raised eyebrow department comes this trick: We use fiberglass curtains in all of our bedrooms. Where do we wash them? In our bathtub, naturally! I hange them on a shower rod and this saves me many steps.

Our household sure misses a lot of aggravation around here by spending a couple of minutes in the evening . . . setting the breakfast table in relative leisure.

This not only saves putting away the dishes and silver, but having to take them out again.

Ohio Receives Second Biggest Roads Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio received $1,045,000—The second biggest slice — from the Bureau of Roads' distribution of $8 million to 15 states.

The money goes to build highways under the accelerated public works program voted by Congress this year.

The funds will cover full cost of selected projects along defense installation routes and across forest, park and public lands. The projects must be launched by the end of 1962.

Newark Man, 20, Believed Killed By Hitchhiker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Young David E. Mason of Newark frequently picked up hitchhikers, his family and friends say, and police believe he is dead because he picked up one too many.

The body of Mason, 22, shot at least eight times and his pockets empty, was found just west of here on a narrow, cinder rural lane Tuesday.

A search continued through the night for the car Mason had driven to Alton, Ill., for a weekend visit with a friend.

But by early today neither the car nor any suspect had been found.

The car belongs to Mason's father, Elbert J. Mason of Newark, who had the heavy-hearted task of positively identifying David's body Tuesday. The car, a black 1962 Studebaker, bore Ohio license V-3482.

The victim was an assistant in the Newark City Engineering Department. He once served on the Newark police force.

British Actress Speaks

Status Symbols Scored

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everything here is a symbol. If you ask a successful American who he is, he immediately wants to show you his motor car."

The speaker of the lines is Shirley Anne Field, who is known as one of Britain's angry young ladies and also as "the pin-up girl of the English intelligentsia."

Miss Field, a film star, is 24, beautiful, red-haired and green-eyed. She appears more cheerfully outspoken than angry, however, and herself feels one reason she is flip with the lip is that she's half-Irish.

"There is so much contrast in this country," she observed. "You meet here either people who are unbelievably talented—or people who seem to have no place at all."

"I'm a cold weather girl and like fresh air. But in New York you can't open a window. They're all painted together," she said.

"When I tried to open the window in my hotel, the maid told me, the air-conditioning in this room cost $10,000—and 'you have to use it.'"

Attacking a $6 steak with gleeful relish, Shirley said that despite the fact so many things in America wore a symbolic price tag she was having a high old time visiting here.

"Actually, I live in a world of symbols myself rather one of reality," she confessed. "I always feel like I'm on the threshold of maturity, but never quite through. You get very confused when you are young and in this business."

Shirley feels a close kinship to the late Marilyn Monroe. A war waif reared in an orphanage, she went to work as a secretary at 15, saved her shillings to take drama lessons. She was a model and a television performer before winning movie recognition.

As did Marilyn Monroe, she aspires to glamor, but she resents the thought that to a studio an actress is "just a mobile, animated piece of property."

"I picked show business because it forces a kind of discipline upon one. But to be yourself takes a lot of courage. In the final analysis, you're alone in what you try to do in life," she said.

"And you get lost if you're not yourself. If you don't know who you are, who does?

"But all I can do is act—and cook. Sometimes I feel happy only when I'm working. You need a complete dedication to self. But I have fears, and when I'm acting someone else—well, those fears go."

Ohio Farm Bureau Delegates Will Map 1963 Policy Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The several hundred delegates to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 1962 convention decide today the policy of their organization for 1963.

Voting was scheduled on a slate of some 250 proposed resolutions drawn up prior to the convention by a policy development committee from thousands of suggestions.

One of the proposals advocates a state income tax. This and others came in for sometimes-heated discussion at an open hearing attended by about 500 Tuesday night.

Resolutions adopted will determine federation stands on issues its spokesmen will put before Congress, the state legislature, government agencies and the National Farm Bureau Federation.

Also on today's schedule was election of nine Ohio Farm Bureau Federation trustees. One-third of the 26 - member board comes up for election each year.

The federation's state youth committee was selected Tuesday, with four holdovers and four newcomers.

Reelected were Chairman James Patterson of Chesterland, Vice Chairman Jack Walter of Dover, Secretary Elaine Basinger of Findlay and Roger Helberg of Napoleon. Newly elected were Mike Bingham of Lancaster, James Harral of Circleville, Bill Kennel of Trenton and Jeanne Woolf of Springfield.

Helberg will represent the Farm Bureau on the Ohio Youth Traffic Safety Committee. Miss Basinger and Harral will serve on the Junior Fair Board, which plans youth activities at the Ohio State Fair.

Man And Woman Objects Of Hunt In Bank Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP)—The FBI in Cincinnati says a secret picture of John Kinchloe DeJarnette has touched off a search for him and a girl companion for questioning in a major Cincinnati bank robbery.

E. D. Mason, agent-in-charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said Tuesday charges were filed again DeJarnette, 41, and Doris Lee Nelson, 23, both of Louisville, Ky., in the Oct. 22 robbery of the O'Bryonville branch of Cincinnati's Provident bank. The robber escaped with $37,232.

Mason said a hidden camera photograph of a man involved in the Sept. 26 holdup of Louisville's Liberty Bank and Trust Co. led investigators to DeJarnette. The Louisville robbery involved loot of $23,773.

Mason said DeJarnette is considered very dangerous, is a narcotics addict and has spent much time in prison.

West Virginia Bill Expected To Force Reapportionment

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia House of Delegates Majority Leader W. T. Brotherton Jr. D-Kanawha, said Tuesday a bill is being prepared for introduction in the January Legislature which would force a reapportionment of the House.

The bill would combine 15 rural counties into seven delegate districts, pare representation of three counties, and increase the number of delegates from nine counties.

Announcement of the bill's proposed introduction followed a report yesterday that the Kanawha County Court plans to bring suit to force the Legislature to reapportion House seats in line with the State Constitution.

The Constitution requires that any county with less than 11,162 population be attached to other counties to form a delegate district. This has not been done in 61 years even though some counties have had less than the constitutionally - required population for one delegate.

Under Brotherton's bill seven delegate districts are proposed, each having one representative in the House.

These would be the districts: Pleasants and Tyler counties; Ritchie and Doddridge; Hampshire and Morgan, Hardy and Grant; Barbour and Tucker; Pendleton and Pocahontas; and Calhoun, Gilmer and Wirt.

The proposed legislation also would give an additional delegate to Berkeley, Boone, Brooke, Hancock, Mercer, Ohio, Wood and Cabell. Kanawha County would get three more delegates.

Fayette, Logan and McDowell counties would have their representation reduced by one delegate each.

House membership would remain at 100 under the Brotherton bill.

Key Figure Awaited In Liquor Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A key figure was due to arrive on the scene today in the special grand jury investigation into charges of shady deals in the state liquor monopoly.

Gilbert Bilenkin, president of Famous Brands, Inc., and allegedly a prime recipient of alleged influence money, was scheduled to begin testimony at about 10 a.m.

Special counsel Adrian B. Fink Jr. said Bilenkin had promised to bring records of dealings in question. Fink said Bilenkin would be questioned at length later.

Bilenkin, who showed up in his home city of Dayton a considerable time after the probe began in September, has said outside the closed-door jury sessions that he will prove charges involving him are fabrications.

Joseph Makler, Chicago distillery executive whose interviews with newsmen a couple of months ago implicated Famous Brands and others, said he had to pay them in 1959 before the Department of Liquor Control would list his brand for sale in state stores.

Makler is scheduled to testify Nov. 26. He also was subject of a lengthy search.

Few Stamp Collectors' Dreams Are Punctured

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department is going to flood the market with misprinted Hammarskjold stamps, puncturing the paper profits of the few collectors who hold the limited number of imperfect stamps which first slipped into circulation.

As expected, the department got some unhappy reactions to its announcement Tuesday.

"Isn't that lousy?" sighed Mrs. Leonard Sherman of Irvington, N.J.

Her husband has a full 50-stamp pane of the 4-cent stamps honoring the late U.N. secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjold. At least 400 of the 120-million issued were printed on an inverted plate.

Sherman figured his inverts might be worth $500,000 to philatelists eager to add the imperfect issue to their collections. But the Post Office plans knocked the bottom out of the market and even direct action didn't help.

Sherman called James F. Kelleher, special assistant to Postmaster General J. Edward Day, and talked for 30 minutes Tuesday. But Kelleher didn't budge from his announcement that the department will print more of the inverted plate stamps and anyone can buy them through the department's philatelic division.

Stamp enthusiasts estimated that would send the value of each stamp plummeting from hundreds or even thousands of dollars to about a dime apiece.

The Post Office Department said the decision follows Day's "policy of avoiding production of rare or over-valued philatelic items."

It noted that the same action was taken last year when a less serious blooper was committed in printing some nursing commemorative stamps.

Russell Ferguson of Cuyahaga Falls, Ohio, who stood to make a pocketful of money before the announcement, was philosophical. "We never had the money to begin, so why get upset about it?" said Ferguson.

He was echoed by Mrs. Terry Terregrossa of Carmel, N. Y., who said "What you haven't got, you don't miss." But she couldn't help adding:

"Maybe the stamp collectors will block the move."

Some dealers in stamps were critical of the decision, but for the most part they seemed to agree with the Denver dealer who said, "I don't believe speculators should be allowed to make money off Post Office mistakes."

The Hammarskjold stamps went on sale Oct. 24. The inverts were discovered a few days ago by an Akron, Ohio, collector, William Throop, and perhaps others. The Post Office admitted Monday that indeed, somebody had goofed. The department said that at least two 200-stamp sheets apparently were twisted 180 degrees between the first and second printings, causing, among other things, the price designation to appear in the wrong corner.

4 Of Clermont's Planning Group Have Quit Posts

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four of the eight appointed members of Clermont County's planning commission have resigned.

The four, who resigned Tuesday, are Chairman William R. Frye, retired businessman; Vice Chairman Joseph Urban, farmer; Vancel Keeler, retired contractor, and E. Ralph House, retired electrical contractor.

The resignations grew out of a letter last week to the commission, made public by the writer, James E. Miller, another commission member, who contended the commission was worthless, ridiculous and "the laughing stock of the county." Miller did not resign, however.

Frye, who had been with the commission since it was organized in 1957, said the members had worked hard and carefully to make their decisions and deserved support instead of abuse.

The commission, whose members serve without pay, was set up five years ago after the county found itself flooded with new subdivisions that created major headaches for county officials.

Widow, 69, Found Slashed To Death In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary Kakish, a 69-year-old widow, was found slashed to death in the kitchen of her home Tuesday.

Police said the killer ransacked an upstairs bedroom and the kitchen of the two - story frame house on the South Side.

The woman, who lived alone, apparently had been dead about 14 hours when the body was discovered by a neighbor, William Clayton. His suspicion was aroused when he noticed two smashed windows in the kitchen and saw the telephone line at the side of the house had been cut.

Detectives said a butcher knife was stuck in Mrs. Kakish's body and she suffered multiple knife wounds. They said she was in her nightgown and may have been awakened and gone to the kitchen to investigate a noise.

A son, Michael, said he visited his mother Monday night and left her about 8:30. She had worked as a janitress at the Paramount Theater for 20 years until retiring three months ago.

West Virginia To Get $800,000 For Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia was allocated $800,000 by the Bureau of Public Roads yesterday for road construction under the Accelerated Public Works program voted by Congress earlier this year.

The funds are to be used to meet the full cost of projects along defense installation routes and across forest, park and public lands.

The projects must be undertaken by the end of the year, the bureau said.

TABLERITE ROAST TURKEY

As American as our early American settlers, and high on the list of preferred foods, roast turkey is the logical choice for holiday meals. Besides being good to eat, turkey is good for you. It is a good source of vitamin B and high in protein as well as important minerals, including iron.

When it comes to buying turkey, the question arises, "How big a bird do I need?" By allowing 1½ to 1¾ lb. per person, this will provide cooked turkey for another meal.

This suggestive table may prove helpful:

READY-TO-COOK RAW TURKEY	SERVINGS
6 lbs. to 8 lbs.	6 to 10
8 lbs. to 12 lbs.	10 to 20
12 lbs. to 16 lbs.	20 to 32
16 lbs. to 20 lbs.	32 to 40
20 lbs. to 24 lbs.	40 to 50

The preferred temperature for cooking a turkey of any size is (325°F) in a slow oven. The length of time varies with the size of bird, for example—

6 to 8 lbs. . . 3½ to 4½ hrs.
8 to 12 lbs. . . . . 4 to 5 hrs.
12 to 16 lbs. . . . . 5 to 6 hrs.
16 to 20 lbs. . . . . 6 to 7 hrs.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Como And The Hillbillies

Perry Como seems eternally to be standing in the eye — or the calm, dead center — of a swirling party called "The Perry Como Show." It's 2 a.m., some old samba records are being played, the rumpus room is rumpled, the men are telling jokes, Mrs. Smith - Hendley from next door is doing a cooch, and Mr. Como stands in the middle of it all, a sleepy teetotaler, smiling benevolently upon the merry-making.

Alan Gill

-:-

WELL, MAYBE the image isn't very exact. Maybe the parties Mr. Como throws are more wholesome than that, and they break up early. But his show is, without doubt, a happy little noise-maker built around a dead calm.

It's like entering a mute in a hog calling contest or placing a cigar store Indian at Custer's Last Stand, and the arrangement is unique.

The TV variety shows always have been built around showoffs like Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca (or, later, Nanette Fabray) —around Gleason and Berle or, going back to the Ice Age, Jerry Lester.

Even Garry Moore, who never to my knowledge has sung "Prisoner of Love," gets into the party mood more often.

-:-

COMO'S WRITERS (whose job it is to carry large, square rocks to the pyramid under the lash of a pharaoh named Goodman Ace) have solved the problem of Mr. Como's immobility by making jokes about it.

They also have a joke that has to do with the fact that their star is no longer 21, and a third joke that refers to Mr. Como's family unit, which is populous.

At this point the material runs out, and Goodman Ace's pyramid builders turn to the guest of honor for inspiration. (The other night he was Robert Cummings, so we were in for some more age jokes.)

I'm not implying that the family humor on other shows has, ipso facto, greater range. With Jack Benny, for instance, there is the advancing-years joke and the penny-pinching joke and that's about it.

-:-

BUT BENNY is a vulnerable target (making him funny) and Como isn't. Benny can stand still, stage-center, and gaze after a departing guest and the gaze is something to laugh at because it's a devastating portrait of wounded pride.

Como spends just as much time as Benny looking off at the wings —smiling a most beguiling smile, tilting and bobbing his head in amused reaction, and patting down the flaps of his collar in a gesture that's peculiarly his—but it's only to convey an affability, not to build a joke.

This sturdy affability, I think, largely explains the endurance record "The Perry Como Show" has set. (How can you get tired of a nice, quiet guy?) I'm afraid it also explains why one viewer (at least one) seldom turns the fellow on. (Why watch a sidewalk stroller when there's a fist fight going on in the middle of the street?)

-:-

THIS IS NOT to say that fist fighters are desirable and strollers aren't. There is too much that is pleasant and tasteful about the Como program to wish it anything but good health, long life.

With only Garry Moore and Andy Williams for company, it's the only show left on television that tries to bring us a musical revue each week. And its music is refreshingly sweet, low and deodorized.

Last Wednesday night, Mr. Como and the talented Kaye Ballard gave us a generous helping of the Irving Berlin score from "Mr. President," and by Berlin standards it was raspberry gellatine rather than baked Alaska; but you get no complaints out of me.)

-:-

IN THE FIRST WEEKS of this new season, a raucous clan called "The Beverly Hillbillies" has moved in next door to Mr. Como and it's taking his audience away from him.

That's too bad. As much as a viewer may wince at the chuckly little chatter Goodman Ace has brought to the festivities — as much as we may long for a break in the composure — Como doesn't deserve this.

We can't see him go away in the way Richard Nixon went away.

Jury Hears $15,000 Suit For Malpractice

Testimony continued today in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in a $15,000 suit charging an East Liverpool doctor with malpractice.

Bernard Ference, 1829½ Clark Ave., Wellsville, claims Dr. Roy C. Costello was negligent in setting his broken leg Jan. 23, 1960, at City Hospital. Ference broke the leg while at work at the Sterling China Co.

The trial began Monday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who swore in the following jury:

Emily Yanni, Blanche Sevey, Thomas Porter, Lloyd Shaw and Olive Kress of East Liverpool; Ruth Schmidt of Salem, Frank Aiken of Leetonia, Mildred Hussar of Rogers, Mary Flugan of Guilford, Freda Feldman of Salineville, Maurice Armstrong of Lisbon and Charles Somers of Alliance R. D. Nevada Laitsch of East Liverpool is the alternate.

Expenses To Be Cut

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Francis J. Miller says all but emergency expenses for the Fairfield Fire Department will be cut off because of the defeat last week of a proposed one-half mill levy for firefighting operations. He said he hoped to get another vote on a fire levy as soon as possible. The levy would have provided funds for five years.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Danny Kaye Keeps Jump Ahead Of Calories

Comedien Danny Kaye is lean, lithe, limber and loquacious. He likes the feeling or lean-aliveness.

"You are much better off being 10 pounds underweight than one pound overweight," is the way he expressed it.

Ida Jean Kain

His weight-rule is not mere theory — he weighs 151 pounds. He definitely thinks TALL, for when I asked his height, he replied, "An even six feet." I suspect that's an uneven answer, and my educated guess is that he's about 5 feet 10 which makes him at least 10 pounds underweight.

Nonetheless his energy is impressive. He'll assure an audience, "You'll get tired out before I will." Asked how he managed to keep his vigor, he said seriously, "I never waste my energy."

—:—

THEN HE implied that if he lived the life of "Walter Mitty" and squandered energy with the the reckless abandon of that favorite character role, he wouldn't be around for long.

Probably the secret of his extraordinary bounce and verve is that he loves his work and can carry on without tension. Laughter is delightfully relaxing. Of all phases of his career, the part Danny enjoys most is being on stage, entertaining an audience.

"What I give to an audience they give back to me a thousand fold," he commented. Indeed they do — full measure, pressed down and running over. The feeling of camaraderie which Danny Kaye inspires in an audience is really something.

You could feel the rapport in ripples of laughter in his Capsule Candid interview with the Women's National Press Club at the home of Patty Cavin, the club president. With his wonderful nonsense, Danny mixes in a deal of common sense.

For example: Asked why he wore the type of molded-to-the-foot sandal, he replied, "because it's pretty — anything that is functionally right is pretty."

Getting back in character, he asked a reporter to take off her pointed toed shoe. Comparing her foot shape to the shoe he asked, "Do you think you feet are happy pinched up in those?" Laughter.

This comedien may conserve his energy off stage, but certainly not on stage. In conducting the National Symphony Orchestra, every part of Danny got into the act.

—:—

WHEN THE music skipped, he matched it with a tippy-toe routine in rhythm, and when the music jumped, so did he — a couple of feet off the podium.

He did a little light footwork to a Strauss Polka, executed the twist with a lady cellist and brought down the house with take-offs on various conductors. The whole effect was hilarity confined.

If ever you get a chance to watch the uninhibited Danny Kaye in syncopated action — don't miss it.

Pavilion Set At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Erection of a new brick pavilion at City Park and plans for providing a skating rink were announced by the Park Commission today.

The 30-x-50-foot pavilion, to have a log interior with a fireplace and cooking facilities, is being erected with the co-operation of the Columbiana County Building Trades Organization which is providing labor without charge, according to the commission, which met Monday.

Footers have already been installed for the pavilion, which will seat 150. Materials are being supplied at cost or less by local suppliers.

The commission has arranged for Wayne Rupert of New Waterford to seal the bottom of the park skating rink — unused in recent years because water has seeped out. Clay from a former mine site in the park will be used.

About eight inches of clay will be placed on the bottom of the rink in an effort to seal it.

Plans have also been made to use the road to the Little League ball field for sledding during the winter.

Shadows cast by the sun and the pattern of wind-blown snow can reveal prehistoric burial mounds and roads when an area is photographed from the air.

May Replace Cotton, Wheat

Feed Grains Seen Headed As Top U.S. Farm Export

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton and wheat, long the kingpins of American farm exports, may give way to feed grains—corn, oats, sorghum grains and barley.

This prospect was laid before an Agriculture Department economic outlook conference by Deputy Asst. Secretary of State W. Michael Blumenthal.

"The bright spot in the farm export outlook is feed grains," he said.

"Income elasticity in Europe today for meat and poultry is on the order of a 3 per cent consumption increase for every one per cent increase in income," he said.

"European imports and consumption of feed grains have been growing rapidly. Feed Grains are our great potential agricultural market in Europe."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has told its annual farm outlook conference that the feed grain surplus should be pretty well eliminated within the next two years.

This forecast was based on the assumption that present voluntary acreage reduction programs will be extended through 1964. They already have been authorized for 1963. Under them, the government offers payments and price supports to growers who idle a part of their feed grain land.

The department said it probably will take five more years to eliminate the present wheat surplus. It said present programs are not adequate to handle what it called serious surplus problems confronting cotton and dairy products.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Much of this year's corn reaching markets is high in moisture content.

Reporting this, the Agriculture Department said the pressure of increased marketings from the crop is forcing corn prices to give ground. Prices last week lost from 2 to 6 cents a bushel.

But wheat prices held generally unchanged, reflecting slow selling by farmers and a shortage of boxcars for moving grain to terminal markets. Soybeans closed last week on a weak note as offerings from the new crop increased with the advancing harvest.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts the number of cattle and calves on farms next Jan. 1 will exceed 100 million head for the first time in history.

It said in a livestock report that the number may total 102 million head, compared with 99.5 million last Jan. 1. Five years ago the number was 91 million head.

Extradition Order Upheld In Kidnaping

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The State Supreme Court has upheld an extradition order to return Louis Raucci to Ohio where is he charged with abducting a bank courier and robbing her of $41,000.

Raucci said in his appeal, rejected Tuesday, that he was at work in Braddock, Pa., on the day the alleged crime was committed in Niles, Ohio. Justice Benjamin R. Jones Jr. said the record shows that two witnesses "unqualifiedly identified Raucci as the person who committed the crime."

Ruth Jane Whitney, a courier for a Niles bank, was abducted and robbed July 16, 1959. Raucci was arrested in Allegheny County a year ago Tuesday.

Ohio Pen Guard To Be Arraigned On Dope Charge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Penitentiary guard has been charged with conveying stimulating drugs into the prison.

Guard Charles H. Looker, 52, of Columbus was expected to be arraigned today on the charges brought by the Highway Patrol.

The patrol and penitentiary officials are co-operating in an investigation to determine just how much traffic in stimulants is involved in the case.

State Correction Commissioner Maury Koblentz, however, said he believed Looker was caught before the operation had been going on long.

Koblentz said a quantity of the stimulant Dexadrine was found in the penitentiary about 10 days ago. Last week, Looker, whose post is the prison hospital, was searched after Dexadrine purchases in Columbus were traced to him, and 100 grams of the stimulant were found in his possession, Koblentz said.

Since then, Koblentz said, Looker has admitted he was bringing the drug to a prisoner who paid him for it. The guard said the prisoner told him the drug was harmless and that he planned to use it in "photography work."

Looker has held his post since July 1961.

The commissioner said no other guards appear to be involved in the case and that authorities still are trying to find out if any other prisoners participated.

Stiff Sentence Given To Parking Violator

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sebastian Barone, 39, of Merchantville, N.J., accused of ignoring 270 parking tickets in two years, has been sentenced to 10 days in jail for each one. It adds up to 7½ years.

Magistrate Joseph Hersch sentenced Barone Tuesday after Barone indicated he would not pay the fine of $3,309. His lawyer said he would appeal the sentence—longest ever imposed in traffic court.

Woman Dies After Being Struck By Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Lilas Richards, 77, of Cleveland Heights died early today of injuries received when she was struck by a car near her home.

The accident happened Tuesday night at the intersection of Noble and Yellowstone Roads. Facts of the case will go to the prosecutor.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEAWEED

QUESTION: Is seaweed good for anything?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Seaweeds belong to the group of simple plants called "algae," most of which grow in water. When you see green scum on a pond, it is fresh water algae you are looking at. Algae contain chlorophyll, with which they make sugar for plant food, using the sun's engery. In many marine algae, the green is covered with brown or red pigment, which makes them look diferent from other plants. The lower forms of fish live on tiny algae and the bigger fish eat the smaller ones; so we should be grateful to algae for our fish dinners. Our picture shows some of the many uses of seaweed. The brown algae called "kelp" give fertilizer, iodine, explosives and "algin," a substance which can hold several liquids together. It is used in ice cream to prevent the water from making ice crystals. Algin is also used in chocolate milk, salad dressing, aspirin and other drugs. Various seaweeds are dried and ground in Japan, forming the important food, "kombu." Perhaps some day we may acquire a taste for seaweed, too.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you eat fish or ice cream or drink chocolate milk, think to yourself, "Good old algae and seaweed."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent sausages from losing their shape when frying?

A. Place the sausages in a pan of cold water and bring to a boil before frying.

Q. How can I make a good varnish for linoleum?

A. One method is merely to melt a small amount of glue in a pint of water. See that the linoleum is clean and dry before applying. Apply with a paintbrush at night and the surface will be dry by morning.

Q. Do you have any suggestions for the mending of a hole in a filmy curtain?

A. Here's one good method: Cover the hole with some white paper, then darn through curtain and paper with your sewing machine threaded in the proper color. Subsequent laundering will soak the paper away, leaving a good, "invisible" mend.

Q. How can I improve the appearance of some decorative stuffed birds?

A. Try rubbing gently over the surface with a slice of bread. The bread will pick up dust and grime without injuring the feathers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Last year my husband's firm sent him to Europe on a 10-month assignment. When Bob and I returned to the U.S. we brought gifts for close friends and relatives. Since we both love sculpture, we picked up a few lovely pieces In Italy and France.

Bob has an elderly aunt of whom we are especially fond. We brought for her what we considered the prize piece of sculpture—a nude woman, head bowed, holding a single rose. The name of the piece is "First Love."

Last night we were at her home for dinner along with some others. There was "First Love"—to my astonishment, wearing a Mother Hubbard apron. Auntie crochets and apparently she decided to dress up the statue.

Nothing was said, but a few guests could scarcely believe their eyes. Do you feel Bob should have a word with his Aunt?—NON-PLUSSED

-:-

Dear Non-Plussed: Auntie now has a real conversation piece—whether she knows it or not.

It would be pointless to say anything because obviously "First Love" was clothed for a reason. It's too late in Auntie's life to do anything about this particular bat in her belfry.

Help For Helpless

Dear Ann: My mother-in-law is wonderful. It's my mother who is making a nervous wreck out of me.

Every morning mother telephones me to "find out what's new?" She is fascinated by any scrap of trivial gossip. I don't care for idle chatter so I contribute very little. She claims I am "the least friendly" of all her children.

Mother dislikes my husband intensely and is constantly taking digs at him. For example she'll say, "My, but Wallace was unpleasant last night. I'm glad I'm not married to him!"

These remarks cut me deeply. I've tried to ignore tham but it's impossible. When the telephone rings in the morning I shudder. My stomach gets tied up in knots. Sometimes it upsets me for the whole day.

Is there a solution? I feel utterly helpless.—CANADIAN WRECK

-:-

Dear Canadian: Yes, there's a solution, but it won't be easy. For the first time in your life I suggest you assume the role of an adult in relation to your mother.

Tell her you will not tolerate any future derogatory remarks about your husband. And prove it by chopping her off in mid-sentence if she forgets.

Give her exactly three minutes on the phone when she calls. Plead "a million things to do this morning" and after a while she'll get the idea.

Dear Ann: Our 17-year-old daughter left home after an argument. She said she was going to rent a room some place. We did not hear from her for several days and then she phoned to say her aunt and uncle had invited her to move in with them. The same day I went over to talk to the aunt (who is my sister-in-law) and learned that the girl had told them we had put her out of the house. This is not true.

Now our daughter wants to come home. My husband says he will not allow her to come home until she tells our relatives the truth. I want the girl home regardless. She has always been difficult to handle. At least if she is at home I will have some idea of where she is and who she's out with.

Now the problem is between my husband and me. Am I wrong, or is he?—TOOTH AND NAIL

Dear Tooth: Your husband is preoccupied with what his relatives think when the central problem is his daughter and how to deal with her hostility.

The girl belongs at home. And, incidentally, she could probably profit from professional help. I hope you can manage both promptly.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Rewarded By Reading To Child

Yesterday we saw the value to the baby and young child of reading to him. Let us consider today what the values are to the person reading aloud to the youngster. My guess is that not many dads read to their children more than I read to the three Myers' children when they were very young and I did so at a time when it was not popular among educators to do so. The center of emphasis then was on telling stories to children. I used to argue then, and can with more assurance now, that whereas the child may like to hear a story told, relatively few persons can tell a story well or think they can.

Dr. Garry Meyers

PRACTICALLY ANY older person can read what the youngster likes to hear. When the child hears a story told, he tends to associate it with the teller; when he hears it read, with the book from which it comes.

Now see what reading to the young child does to the reader. Since what he reads is expressed in simple and direct language, he himself gains thereby in effective expression.

But for having read to my own children when they were very young, I hardly would be writing this column or editing a children's magazine. Writing in secondary school and college was my worst subject, over which I labored and worried more than any other. Who would ever have guessed I'd be writing now in simple language?

Until I had been reading to my eldest child when he was from two to five, I wrote only technical material, having published several researches in psychology.

WHEN I HAD MY doctor's dissertation in script, which I wrote very laboriously, I got a former college classmate whose forcefulness of expression I had always admired to go over it with me. As I read short portions of it sentence by sentence to him, he would say, "What does that mean, Garry?" When I explained, he replied, "Why didn't you write it so?"

What you read to a very young child is usually simple and direct. From it, you may learn to speak and write more effectively. So when a mother, father or babysitter often reads to the baby and young child, this reader is almost surely growing in forcefulness of verbal, even written, expression.

In a family of two or more children, the one being able to read a little may greatly improve his reading skill by reading to a baby brother or sister. Indeed, it's hard to imagine a better way for a poor reader to improve his reading skill than by reading to an eager listener.

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Readers" and "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?", may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of 1962. There are 47 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1937, France's General Confederation of Labor proclaimed a boycott of Japanese goods by its five million members. The action was one of a series of national demonstrations for peace.

On this day:

In 1775, Colonial troops under Benedict Arnold reached Quebec.

In 1864, Gen. Sherman and his Union forces began the famed march to the sea after burning Atlanta during the Civil War.

In 1920, the first wire photographs in the United States were transmitted from the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In 1940, Nazi bombers spread destruction on the historic English city of Coventry during World War II.

In 1948, Prince Charles was born to Princess Elizabeth of England and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

Today's birthday:

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is 66. Prime Minister Nehru of India is 73.

Thought for today:

The first half of life consists of the capacity to enjoy without the chance; the last half consists of the chance without the capacity . . . Mark Twain.

An easy way to serve about a dozen people a holiday dinner, is to choose a fully - cooked ham of 12 to 14 pounds for the main course. The meat may be heated and glazed without tending, and there will be lots left over!

Count on boiling two pounds of onions and making two cups of medium white sauce if you are planning to serve creamed onions on a holiday menu designed for a dozen eaters.

Dear friends,

Few people realize that the average funeral requires 90 to 100 man hours of service from the time of call until the funeral is completed.

This fact, plus the many other items of expense and overhead, cause the funeral director considerable concern to keep funeral costs from inflating at the rapid rate of other goods and services.

Respectfully,
